2 Feared Drowned Off Marin Coast

Coast Guard boats and helicopters yesterday failed to find the bodies of two teen-agers who were believed drowned in separate mishaps off the Marin County coast during the weekend.

Seventeen-year-old Paul Voshier of San Francisco vanished late Saturday afternoon in the surf while swimming off Tomales Point.

The other youth, Bryan Regallie, 18-year-old Emeryville High School baseball star, disappeared off a cabin cruiser in the waters between Sausalito and Alcatraz on Friday night.

The Coast Guard announced today it had abandoned the search for Regallie's body.

Voshier was swimming with two other 17-year-olds, Steven Fandi and Ronald Ragana, both of San Francisco at McClure's Beach about 5 p.m. when he disappeared beneath the waves, bobbed to the surface and then disappeared again in the ebbing tide.

His two companions ran to the John McClure ranch for help. Parties from the Coast Guard and sheriff's office raced to the scene but were unable to locate the youth.

It was the second apparently fatal mishap in the McClure beach area in less than 10 months. Another San Francisco youth, Wayne Gearhart, 19, died when he slipped from the rocks into the surf last year.

The disappearance of Bryan Regallie remained a mystery today.

Richard A. March, 16, of Oakland, Regallie and Kenneth Schumaker, 37, skipper of the 20-foot cabin cruiser had taken the boat from Berkeley to Sausalito on Friday afternoon. They sailed to Tiburon where Schumaker said they spent some time in Sam's Cafe.

After nightfall, they started back for Berkeley, with March at the wheel and Schumaker in his bunk. Regallie also stayed on deck.

"He was standing by the rail talking to me. I turned away for a moment and he was gone," March reported.

The question of how the young athlete could tumble over the side in a calm sea without making a sound was unsolved.

So was the question of why Schumaker and March sailed all the way back to Berkeley rather than putting in at the

Spectacular Fire Guts Hilltop Home

Flames turned a hilltop Larkspur home into a torch Saturday night, drawing hundreds of spectators and causing damage estimated at $10,000.

The burned-out occupants, Courtland T. Mudge, his wife and two children, were taken in by neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Schwartz of 325 Summit Drive.

Units from Corte Madera and Larkspur Fire Departments battled the fire which engulfed the two-story frame house at 219-B Summit Drive.

VISIBLE FOR MILES

The flames leaped almost 40 feet into the air and were visible for miles.

Neighbors spotted the blaze at 7:55 p.m. and telephoned both fire departments.

Corte Madera firemen drove two pumper trucks up the narrow, winding road to the scene. Larkspur sent a 200-gallon pickup truck.

The blaze was brought under control in 10 minutes, but firemen were mopping up until 11 p.m. A unit of Larkspur firemen maintained an all-night watch on the house.

The flames, which apparently started in a gas floor heater in the kitchen, raced through the living room and bedrooms of the second floor. The second story was gutted, according to Corte Madera Fire Chief Frank Nelson.

$10,000 DAMAGE

Damage was estimated at $3,000 to the contents and $7,000 to the building. The first floor was not damaged.

Mudge and his family were not home at the time of the fire. They returned as firemen were mopping up. The family, including an 18-month-old girl and a six-month-old boy, were taken in by the Schwartzs, who own the house on top of the so-called Christmas Tree Hill where a large revolving star is put up at Christmas time.

Firemen said the owner of the half-gutted house, Mrs. Eileen Bowls, lives in Carmel.

The house is located in a pie-shaped wedge of Larkspur territory.

JFK Would Cut Spending Abroad

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy called today for stern action to slash American spending abroad and a bold drive to lure foreign funds here in order to halt the overseas drain on U. S. gold reserves.

One of the chief weapons Kennedy proposed in a special message to Congress was to cut from $500 to $100 the amount of duty-free goods American tourists could bring home from other countries every six months.

The president also asked Congress to prevent American companies from using "tax havens" abroad as a means of escaping U. S. levies. But he also said he had ordered a check on whether U. S. tax laws might be driving "undue amounts" of American capital out of this country.

These were among a score of proposals Kennedy made for keeping the dollar "as good as gold" by ending the 10-year-old balance-of-payments deficit which has resulted from more American money going to foreigners than has come back from them.

Kennedy's program would have a wide impact on bankers, businessmen and tourists here and abroad. It also would limit spending overseas by American servicemen and their families, although Kennedy has revoked former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's order cutting the number of military dependents overseas.

The first step, Kennedy said, is to revive the U. S. domestic economy. But beyond that, he said, much must be done with "maximum emphasis" placed on expanding U. S. exports.

"Our costs and prices must therefore be kept low," he said, "and the government must play a more vigorous part in helping to enlarge foreign markets for American goods and services."

At the same time, the president said, the government must encourage tourism here by foreign travelers to counter the flow of money spent abroad by American tourists.

Kennedy reaffirmed his pledge to hold the official U. S. price of gold at $35 an ounce, to avoid trade and investment exchange controls, and to carry forward this country's national security and economic aid programs.

Among short-term proposals, Kennedy said U. S. banks should be allowed to pay higher interest on foreign-owned than American deposits as part of "a maximum competitive effort to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold."

He also said he would keep in effect Eisenhower's ban against Americans holding gold abroad.

The proposed reduction in duty-free imports by tourists and ban on use of "tax havens" by American firms were among a series of long-term recommendations by Kennedy. Others included:

"Energetic" government leadership to help American industry and agricultural drive for more export markets.

A "major new program to encourage foreign travel in the United States."

Steps to keep American goods "competitively priced" with those of other countries.

Placing American exporters "on a basis of full equality with their competitors in other countries" in obtaining credit

Murdered Man's Body Found In Crude Grave On Mt. Tam

Gunshot Victim's Identity Unknown; Sausalito Hiker Makes Grim Find

The nude body of a man in his late 30s, shot through the head, was found beneath a few inches of loose dirt and leaves in a Mount Tamalpais "grave" last night.

The victim's identity today remained as much a mystery as the identity of his killer.

Vernon E. Smock, an American Distilling Co. machinist of 517 Humboldt Street, Sausalito, led officers to the scene last night. He pointed to where a man's foot protruded from beneath the loose dirt of the shallow "grave," hidden among dense growth on the western slope of the mountain near Devil's Gulch.

'CHOPPING SOUNDS'

Smock said he had discovered the "grave" yesterday on returning to the scene because he had heard "chopping sounds" in the area as he was on a hike Saturday.

According to Coroner Frank J. Keaton, the murder victim was white, 32 to 38 years old, six feet tall and weighing about 170 pounds. He had brown hair, hazel eyes. He was wearing an upper dental plate, broken on the right side.

The bullet, Keaton said, entered through the back of the head behind the left ear and emerged near the right temple. The death gun was fired "within a few feet" of the victim, he said.

FINGERPRINTS TAKEN

Fingerprints of the dead man were taken to Sacramento today in an attempt to discover his identity, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said.

"I think we will hit paydirt when we get a report on the prints," Mountanos said. "The killing has every indication that the dead man had 'been around.' I feel sure prints of him are on file somewhere."

Mountanos and more than 25 men from the sheriff's department and the Marin County Fire Department spent more than two hours early today hauling the body up the steep hillside about two miles from the Mount Tamalpais outdoor theater. With them was Smock.

HIKING ON TRAIL

Smock told Sausalito Police Sgt. Stanley Kelly at 4:10 p.m. yesterday that he was hiking on Devil's Gulch trail near Alpine Dam Saturday when he heard sounds of digging or chopping in the underbrush.

He said he thought at first it was someone removing a tree. "When I stopped to listen, the digging sounds stopped," Smock said. When he began walking again, he heard what sounded like someone running through the underbrush.

When he returned to his car, which was parked nearby on the Fairfax-Bolinas road, he said he noticed a car which had been parked near him earlier was gone.

He brooded over the incident all Saturday night, he said, and returned to the scene yesterday with his wife. It was then he saw a foot of a man protruding from the leaves and dirt, he said.

He and his wife then drove home before reporting the incident to Kelly, Smock said.

Smock was taken back to the scene of the murder today by Mountanos and a team of inspectors.

The first investigators on the scene yesterday were Keaton, Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce Bales, Sheriff's Inspector Richard Argento and Edward Klementovich of the sheriff's identification bureau.

The victim had apparently

SIMILAR HISTORY

Slaying Recalls Two Mt. Tam Murders

Discovery of a man's body in a new, shallow grave on a wooded slope of Mount Tamalpais last night stirred memories of two famous murders on the Marin mountain.

On June 15, 1953, a San Francisco man and woman, out on a picnic, stumbled upon a man's body among the woods—much as Vernon E. Smock of Sausalito related he found the unidentified body yesterday.

There was no single bullet hole in the head of the corpse of Roy E. Kappahn, 35-year-old Salinas cement finisher, as there was in that of the man found yesterday. Kappahn had been stabbed nine times in the chest, his throat cut and his head beaten. His body had been thrown on the mountainside in Mount Tamalpais State Park, near Panoramic Highway—the opposite side of the mountain from yesterday's gruesome find.

On June 19—four days after the body was found—Raymond C. Hodge and Duane A. Hall were arrested in Oregon as suspects in the slaying. Hodge had known Kappahn. He and Hall had plotted the murder, the state charged. Both were convicted and sentenced to life terms, although Judge Thomas C. Keating, who presided at the Marin Superior Court trial, declared the crime "really called for the death penalty." Both are still in prison.

Four years before the Kappahn slaying, on June 30, 1949, Donald L. Panattoni, son of a San Francisco poultry mer-

MARIN SEARCH ON

Two Inmates Escape From Quentin Ranch

Two San Quentin Prison inmates escaped from the dairy ranch outside the main prison walls last night.

Armed prison guards along with local police agencies patrolled the San Rafael area in vain searching for the pair.

The men, both milkers at the ranch, which is surrounded by a nine-foot high chain-link fence, were last seen at 9 p.m. They were missing at the 10 p.m. count.

They were identified at Frank L. Lee Jr., 29, and George Allen Brice, 33.

Brice was serving three consecutive sentences for rape, burglary and receiving stolen goods. The sentences five years to life, three to life and six months to 10 years.

According to Joseph D. O'Brien, officer of the day, the read-haired, blue-eyed Texan was convicted of rape and burglary in San Diego County in 1954. He was paroled in August, 1959, and returned after being convicted for receiving stolen property in Humboldt County last March.

Lee was convicted of forgery in Glenn County in 1955 and sentenced to six months to 14 years. He was paroled in March, 1957, returned for violation in October of the same year, paroled again in November, 1959, and returned on a new forgery charge from County last April.

He is described as blonde, brown-eyed, 160 pounds and five feet, nine-inches tall.

Sunny Weather Dispels Showers

"Early summer" returned in glory to Marin today after a brief interruption by showers this morning.

The Weather Bureau forecast continuing clear weather for five more days.

The warm sunshine drew the populace outdoors during the weekend.

There were 5,922 visitors at Muir Woods National Monument, reported Supt. Frederick M. Martischang. He estimated that 3,721 visitors were at the monument yesterday and 2,201 Saturday. Ranger Alison F. Vestal said there was a "good turnout" at the Stinson Beach Park over the weekend with about 3,500 there yesterday and 1,500 Saturday.

School Tax Vote Set Tomorrow In Fairfax

The Fairfax Elementary School District voters will ballot tomorrow on a proposal to raise the district's tax limit by 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The present $1.25 general purpose tax will be raised to $2.05, if the measure is approved by two-thirds of those voting.

The tax hike will differ from the unsuccessful attempt in the Nov. 8 general election in that the raise will be for an indefinite period. The earlier proposal asked the increase for five years only.

District trustees report $65,800 additional is needed for annual operations. Expenditures for the past two years have exceeded income by about $20,000 per year.

Not affected by the outcome of tomorrow's election are taxes of seven cents for retirement funds, five cents for community services, two cents for social security, four cents for the county school service fund, 26 cents for state loan repayment and 19 cents for bond retirement.

The $1.25 general purpose tax limit has been in effect since 1954. The 80-cent increase was defeated last November by a slim margin, 17 votes.

Previous to the general election, a proposal for a 75-cent increase was defeated March 15 by 109 votes.

Ernest Vogel, 'Mayor' Of Novato, Succumbs

Ernest R. Vogel, who was unofficial "mayor of Novato" for many years before Novato had a mayor, died yesterday in a local hospital. He was 75. He was admitted to the hospital Thursday after suffering a heart attack. He had suffered from a heart ailment since 1958.

Vogel, who formerly operated the Veterans' Salvage Shop on Grant Avenue in Novato, had been an active participant in county affairs since he moved to Marin in 1945. Until 1958, when he suffered his first heart attack, Vogel attended almost every meeting of the board of supervisors.

His job was to protect the Novato taxpayers, he said.

Vogel ran for commissioner of the Novato Fire District in 1955, but was defeated.

A native of San Francisco, Vogel was 21 years old at the time of the 1906 earthquake and fire. The family home on Eighth Street in the South-of-Market area was dynamited by the army to stop the spread of flames. The Vogel family camped for two days on Potrero Hill and then moved in with relatives in the outer Mission district.

Three years later, Vogel moved to Novato and married the former Ann Braun, daughter of a dairy ranching family.

The couple lived in Novato until 1919, then returned to San Francisco where Vogel worked as a machinist for Cali-

East Digging Out After Big Storm

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Northeastern areas, stunned by one of the worst storms in history, struggled today to overcome the devastation of a weekend storm that buried the area under up to 40 inches of snow.

In the nation's midsection, a new storm headed northeastward after dumping up to eight inches of snow on portions of Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas and glazed nearby areas with freezing rain or sleet.

The Weather Bureau said the storm was diminishing but would move northeastward across Midwest areas and into the middle Mississippi Valley, Kentucky and Tennessee today.

Communities from the Carolinas northward into New England continued the massive task of attempting to restore order from the havoc wrought by the season's third major storm that paralyzed the area over the weekend.

The howling storm, accompanied by winds up to 75 miles an hour, was blamed for nearly 100 deaths.

Gale force winds whipped the snow into gigantic drifts, severed utility lines and reduced travel to a bare minimum.

Numerous towns and cities, mostly in New England and New York, were under emergency conditions long after the storm roared out to sea off the tip of Nova Scotia early yesterday.

Air, rail and bus schedules were still a scramble last night but officials held out hope that reasonable service would be restored today.

New York City, its 6,000 miles of streets nearly strangled with almost a foot and a half of snow, was still closed to all but emergency travel late yesterday.

The city's two major airports, Idlewild and La Guardia resumed operations last night after being closed since Friday, forcing cancellation of some 2,600 flights.

The four major railroads operating out of the city hoped to be back on schedule after a day of operation without the semblance of a timetable.

In Rhode Island, officials called the storm the worst in at least 57 years.

Russ Maintain Odd Silence On New Satellite

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union maintained an enigmatic and unusual silence today on the mission and fate of its massive new sputnik. Western track stations picked up no trace of the satellite.

A Soviet scientist, Prof. Yegheny Leonovich Klimov, hinted the seven-ton satellite, whose launching was announced Friday, was unmanned. He said it was designed to study the earth and its environment.

IN CONTRAST Moscow's official silence was in contrast to its previous satellite launchings, when Soviet scientists routinely announced how equipment was functioning and the schedule of cities to be passed over.

Western experts speculated that either something went wrong with the new satellite or the Soviets were keeping some spectacular development a secret until its success was assured.

Western scientists especially noted the Soviets seemed in no hurry to answer speculation that the sputnik might be carrying a man through space. The satellite is large enough to carry an astronaut—and perhaps two.

'SOMETHING ODD' Britain's leading satellite-tracking expert, Prof. Bernard Lovell, director of the Jodrell Bank Tracking Station, said, "there is certainly something rather odd about the long Russian silence on the satellite's progress."

He suggested the sputnik's radio may have broken down or the Soviets might be transmitting on frequencies not used before.

"It may be, of course, that there is some living thing on board—not necessarily a man—and the Russians are aying nothing until they get the satellite safely back to earth," he said.

Japanese scientists said they picked up signals being transmitted today on frequencies normally used by Soviet satellites but the signals seemed to be coming from a fixed station and not an orbiting object.

Novatan Commended For Safe Driving Mrs. Lena Blaski of 1005 Fifth Street, Novato, was commended today by California Highway Patrolman Paul E. Zensius, school safety officer, for completion of 10 years of accident-free driving of a school bus.

"She not only has a fine safety record but is universally popular with the children," said Zensius. "When she started, there was only one school in Novato School District. Today she delivers children to a total of six schools, while at the same time the traffic hazards have greatly built up."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown indicated he would accompany the tour party, to be made up of some 50 publishers, editors, businessmen and state officials. They will be in Baja California for three days starting May 21 and visit Tijuana, Mexicali and Ensenada.

U.S. Base Water Supply Firm Seized

HAVANA (AP)—The Cuban water company supplying the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay since 1939 has been taken over by Fidel Castro's government. So far, however, there has been no interruption in the base's water supply.

The naval base made arrangements some time ago to get an adequate water supply by tankers if necessary. But one of the new government administrators for the Yateras Aqueduct Co., Antonio Batista, said operations would continue as before.

The Yateras company, located on a river of the same name a few miles northwest of Guantanamo, first contracted to supply the base in 1939. The original 20-year contract is understood to have been renewed for a 10-year period running to 1969.

The company, founded by Henri Schueg, built an aqueduct and pumping station to send water to the base. The Navy expanded them in 1941 and 1942.

The government said it took over the company because the owners abandoned the property.

Weekend addresses by two top Castro aides revealed an intensified campaign to link the Roman Catholic Church here and the new Kennedy administration in Washington with Cuban counter-revolutionaries.

Remarks at a teachers' rally yesterday by President Osvaldo Dorticos and Education Minister Armando Hart also suggested a long-anticipated government move against private and Catholic schools is imminent.

Dorticos accused the church and its schools of teaching hatred for Castro's revolution. He said growing anti-Castro activity within the church coincides with President John F. Kennedy's increase of aid to

Other officers elected at the association's meeting Friday were: William Cleary, vice president; Arthur Poganski, secretary-treasurer, and Robert Mariani, sergeant-at-arms.

Ladies Night Planned Bolinas Fire Department's annual Ladies Night will be held at the Bolinas Community Center on Saturday night, Feb. 18. Dinner and dancing for firemen and their wives will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Elected to the board of directors were Bill Williams, Kenneth Kamp, Frank Zita and Tom Casson.

Four Reported Dead In New Angola Rioting

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Four persons were reported killed and seven wounded yesterday during new rioting in Luanda, capital of Portugal's West African territory of Angola.

The Portuguese news agency Lusitania reported shooting broke out during a funeral procession for seven policemen and soldiers killed in a clash Friday between a mob and police armed with machine guns. Nine civilians also were killed in the battle.

NOT TARGET Gov.-Gen. Alvaro da Silva Tavares of Angola said all of yesterday's victims were rioters. Da Silva was in the funeral procession but there was no indication that the firing was directed at him.

Da Silva claimed he has evidence the rioters were "partisans of a Communist-inspired movement" which is preparing "to implant sovietism on the Iberian Peninsula."

Spokesmen for Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's regime said modern Czechoslovak weapons were seized by police in Friday's clash.

NO DETAILS An official of Portugal's international police denied the rioters Friday were marching on the police station or staging an uprising against Salazar's dictatorship. He declined to give details. A Canadian eyewitness to the shooting said it developed from a police crackdown on a crowd of drunken revelers at 4 a.m.

Da Silva, however, said Saturday the police had crushed an armed uprising supposedly timed with the ill-fated seizure of the Portuguese liner Santa Maria by rebels opposing Salazar. He said Luanda's police headquarters and civil and military prisons were attacked by rioters trying to free prisoners.

SAW FIGHTING The tourist from Toronto, Harry Jurgensen, said he saw the fighting, in a squalid suburb reserved for Africans and poor whites.

The governor general toured some districts of Luanda in an open, unguarded car last night and then broadcast congratulations to the citizens for their "complete confidence and calmness." He promised severe punishment for the rioters.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Four organizations representing doctors, hospitals and medical insurance today announced creation of a joint commission for the promotion of voluntary non-profit pre-payment health plans.

The commission includes representatives of the American Medical Assn., the American Hospital Assn., the National Assn. of Blue Shield Plans and the Blue Cross Assn.

Avalanches Take Toll

ROME (AP)—Sunny weather coming after snowstorms has brought great masses of snow tumbling down from the high peaks in the Alps. Highways and railroads are blocked, mountain villages isolated and at least 37 persons were killed.

Two giant avalanches 60 miles apart killed eight persons yesterday in Italy's northern mountains.

New NLRB Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frank W. McCulloch, administrative assistant to Sen. Paul H. Douglas, (D-Ill.) has been chosen by President John F. Kennedy to be chairman of the National Labor Relations Board. McCulloch replaces Boyd Leedom as chairman of the NLRB. Leedom, an Eisenhower appointee, will remain on the board.

Russ Downgraded

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda today announced the transfer of Averki Aristov, a member of the Presidium of the Communist Party Central Committee, from his Moscow job to be ambassador to Poland. There was strong belief that the transfer represented a sharp demotion, and that Aristov was one of the first in a high place to be hit by Premier Nikita Khrushchev's attack on those responsible for agricultural shortcomings last year.

Setback For Frondizi

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Buenos Aires voters have defeated President Arturo Frondizi's senatorial candidate, favoring men from two other parties and killing Frondizi's hopes for a prestige showing.

The president's great majority in Congress remains unaffected, but Frondizi had hoped that victory for his choice in Buenos Aires' election would be a sign the people accept the government's austerity policies.

Freeway Mileage

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California freeway mileage has increased from nothing in 1940 to more than 1,500 miles today. In the past 10 years, it has increased 1,100 miles.

Democratic Club Postpones Election

The new Sausalito Democratic Club postponed its election of officers Friday night because several of its members could not attend, Mrs. Sally Buckley, acting chairman, announced.

About 10 members met and decided to hold the organizational meeting and election later this month. Mrs. Buckley said the date and place of the meeting will be announced later.

State's Publishers Hit Castro Curbs On Press

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California newspaper publishers have expressed unanimous opposition to Fidel Castro's seizure of newspapers and other information media in Cuba and abridgement of a free press.

A resolution aimed at the Castro regime was adopted yesterday at the concluding session of the California Newspaper Publishers Assn.'s 73rd annual convention.

The convention was highlighted by awards for outstanding performances in the writing, photographic, typographical and editorial fields.

The CNPA's free press motion was introduced by Ben Reddick, publisher of the Newport Harbor News Press. It urged the United States government "to withhold any aid or assistance to the Cuban government until the rights of freedom of the people of Cuba and possession of their property are restored."

California publishers acted after a key convention speaker, Jorge Zayas, told how Castro's regime, which he said had turned the island into a Russian satellite, is exercising "complete thought control over the Cuban people through control of newspapers and all other news media."

CNPA directors voted to accept an invitation from Baja California's Gov. Eligio Esquivel Mendez to sponsor a goodwill visit to the neighboring Mexican state in May.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown indicated he would accompany the tour party, to be made up of some 50 publishers, editors, businessmen and state officials. They will be in Baja California for three days starting May 21 and visit Tijuana, Mexicali and Ensenada.

SUNDAY SERMON

Unitarian Pastor Deplores Words In Stead Of Deeds

Is the doctrine of salvation in Christian theology or the concept of Unitarian-Universalism as much a way of behaving as a way of talking?

The essence of yesterday's sermon by Rev. Samuel B. Wright posed this question to the congregation of the Unitarian Church of Marin.

"Christian theology says man is under the impression that he needs to be saved from death—but what he does not see is that he needs to be saved from himself," said the pastor. "What happens when a Christian is 'saved' when in his language he 'comes to Christ'?"

"What constitutes a Christian? Words or deeds? I know of no martyr burned at the stake for not going the second mile, turning the other cheek or for laying up treasures upon the earth, nor anyone being persecuted for not loving his neighbor as himself," declared Rev. Wright. But, he said, a person's standing as a Christian communicant officially seems to depend on the that person's use of the right words.

"What about Unitarian-Universalism? Is it as much a way of behaving as a way of talking?" In dealing with this question Rev. Wright declared that words often take the place of deeds.

"This happens, he said, 'considerably with such words as 'brotherhoods' which we will hear so much this month in what we call Brotherhood Week. But where is brotherhood in New Orleans? Or in the Council of Churches which defines Christianity in its own terms: Or in Marin County, where one cannot live where he might wish because of the color of his skin? We talk of peace, what are we doing about it? . . .

"Love your enemies, do good to those who curse you. Our granaries are bursting with surplus grain while people starve in China. We speak of the sacredness of human life and are deeply shocked when a crime of violence takes a life, but you and I methodically take a life every few weeks in a gas chamber we own on Point San Quentin."

Rev. Wright concluded by saying that each generation has to face anew the sense of separation between what is and what ought to be. "The important question is always to ask, when offered a doctrine of salvation: At what does this salvation aim? Does it aim to extinguish problems so there will be no more problems? If does, is this life or is this death?"

"Life goes from problem to problem, from question to question. I am sure that if we did not have this, we would not have life. To me this is the life giving quality—the gap between what is and what ought to be. Traditionally this has been called a sense of sin. Whatever its name, in this universal experience of being unsatisfied, of feeling separated because of the problems that man faces is to be found man's glory, not his negation."

S.F. Welcomes British Liner

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The British luxury liner Oriana, newest of the world's passenger ships, was anchored in San Francisco Bay today after receiving one of the biggest greetings in San Francisco maritime history.

The 42,000-ton vessel steamed through the Golden Gate yesterday as thousands of spectators lined the shores at both ends of the Golden Gate Bridge.

Fireboats, tugboats, Coast Guard cutters, sightseeing launches, sailboats and power cruisers clustered about the huge liner—fifth largest in the world—eased toward her berth. The P & O-Orient liner leaves San Francisco for Los Angeles tomorrow. This is the midway point in her maiden voyage which started last December at Southampton, England.

Independent-Journal managing editor Jack J. Craemer will be one of two Marin businessmen who will address the Ministerial Fellowship of Marin County at an 8 a.m. breakfast meeting tomorrow at Trinity Lutheran Church in San Rafael.

The other will be Samuel H. Miller, manager of Safeway Store and member of the First Baptist Church in San Anselmo.

The panel will present its opinions on the "Businessman's Image of the Church in the Community."

Brown Aims Blows At Bias In Housing

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Brown administration aimed new blows at racial discrimination in California today by directive and by proposed legislation.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown ordered steps to inform all applicants for Cal-Vet home and farm loans that racial or religious covenants in property deeds are unenforceable in the courts.

Along with this, Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins (D-Los Angeles) announced he would introduce legislation with Brown's support to write Cal-Vet into a 1959 law banning discrimination in publicly assisted housing.

Thousands of homes and farms are financed with low-interest state loans to California veterans of two world wars.

The bill would make it unlawful for anyone to refuse to sell, rent or lease a Cal-Vet home because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry. Sen. Albert Rodda (D-Sacramento) will sponsor it in the Senate.

Novato Studies Shop Center Plans Tonight

Plans for an 11½-acre shopping center in Novato will go before the Novato Planning Commission tonight in the first of two public hearings.

Commissioners will look at details of the Safeway center planned at Highway 101 and Diablo Avenue, with 69,000 square feet of stores planned. A preliminary report by backers lists 62 possible types of stores for the center, including a Safeway supermarket.

The two main buildings planned for the area will include five divisions, ranging in size from 5,000 square feet to 23, 400 square feet. The Safeway store is planned near the intersection of Diablo Avenue and South Novato Boulevard.

Parking for a minimum of 425 cars will be along the highway side of the property. Developers have promised the State Division of Highways to sell any area needed for highway widening at purchase cost. The City of Novato and highway planners are awaiting surveys which may determine if the present Highway 101 will be ultimately widened to eight lanes through the city or will bypass it.

'AF Jet Operation Perils Development

A frightening picture of what it could mean to place a large recreational subdivision beside an Air Force base was drawn by a military spokesman who appeared unexpectedly at an apparently routine Marin County Planning Commission hearing today on the proposed Bel Marin Keys development.

Deafness and death must be counted among imminent possibilities of such location, declared Maj. Charles E. Jerman, civil engineer from Hamilton

Air Force Base.

The startled planners, after some discussion, continued the matter to Feb. 20.

Jerman rose to leave a big military monkey-wrench into what had been pleasant proceedings concerning 212-acre Bel Marin Keys, a luxury middle-class water development in the Ignacio area.

Plans for Unit 1 seemed near approval. Commissioner Felix M. Warburg of Belvedere had just suggested that perhaps children living in this recreational area might want to go to school by rowboat, so open space should be left to park the boats.

M. W. Finley, the developer, had expressed general agreement with various staff suggestions and maps had been inspected with Hamilton a mere unmentioned detail to the south. Then Major Jerman arose to remark that "Hamilton is directly affected but we seem to have been left clear out in left field."

"We intend to be here a long time," said Jerman slowly. "We have to defend San Francisco and the Bay Area, and you here."

"This development will be right under jet aircraft—right under a noise level injurious to ears."

Then Jerman got into details. About the noise, he said that to meet missions it is necessary to give minimum four-minute engine run up "trimming" with full power and afterblower.

"All our people wear ear-plugs," he went on, "but we are seriously concerned with disability retirement of our young airmen with ear trouble."

In the air traffic pattern over the subdivision, said Jerman, a mission would take two aircraft with four engines putting out 125 decibels in every body's ears — and 90 are injurious to ears."

"It would be very unappetizing to me," the major added, "if I were going to buy a home there."

Jerman paused to say he wasn't too familiar with the project as he first received plans last Friday on return from a trip, but he felt he already could see that many installations were involved: A two-million-dollar pumping system put in by the field after 1956 floods, locations of sensitive radar antenna, a project for extending Hamilton's main runway 1,000 feet which is "already at secretary of defense level—if we'd had it earlier we would have saved three million dollars so we are likely to get it."

Other plans disturbing to nearby residents of the future were mentioned such as possible eventualities that a commercial airport will be put in, "and if they do they won't bring it in with one runway."

"We've been real lucky about 'We've been real lucky about about airplanes falling into houses," commented Jerman.

"We try to use the bay on our turns. But when we go out on instruments and when the pilot comes back—we've got to get that boy down. It's no fun flying sometimes..."

Jerman said earnestly: "It's not fair for anybody to live under these procedures, but I don't know any way to dodge the procedures."

been executed on or near the spot, said Mountanos, pointing to the great difficulty in getting the body out of the wilderness. He had been dead for three or four days, Keaton said. There were no identifying marks, jewelry or clothing nearby.

The fact that the body was stripped of anything which might identify it gave the case a totally different character than if it had been a "passion killing," Mountanos said. "Since the killer made every effort to conceal who his victim was, might make it easier for us to find the killer once we identify the dead man," the sheriff said.

Once the identity is known, Mountanos said, there is likely to be a link somewhere with the killer.

The feet of the body were jammed in the roots of a eucalyptus tree and a log about 15 feet long was laid across the victim's chest.

"A few days of rain would have completely uncovered the body," Mountanos said, but added that it would not have washed away because of the weight across it.

The body was taken to Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley.

There, the officers uncovered the body of Panattoni's young wife, the daughter of Paul Dana, a brilliant San Francisco lawyer.

Panattoni had beaten his wife to death in their San Francisco apartment, he told officers, then stuffed her body into the trunk of his car and driven to Mount Tamalpais for a hasty burial.

He was convicted of second degree murder and his term later was fixed at 12 years, then reduced to eight years. He was paroled from the Vacaville Medical Facility in November, 1957. One year later, in a macabre sequel, his famous father-in-law was committed to Agnews State Hospital after a series of incidents which had resulted in grand jury investigations of his practices. He had never recovered from the severe depression caused by his daughter's murder, psychiatrists told the court.

Improvement Unit Elects At Bolinas

A. C. Pfefferkorn, longtime Bolinas civic leader, is the new president of the Bolinas Beach Improvement Assn.
Pfefferkorn was elected Saturday night at a dinner meeting at which Frank A. Fuller, who had been president for seven years, retired from the office at his own insistence.

Anthony Bolger, retired Oakland police captain, was re-elected vice president, and Mrs. Dorothy Paul was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Fifty-four persons attended the meeting, featured by Fuller's resume of the club's accomplishments since its founding in 1952.
The new president is former chief of the Point Reyes Volunteer Fire Department, former president for seven years of the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce, and has held various offices in American Legion, Shoreline Highway Assn. and several improvement clubs. He has also been active in Boy Scout and 4-H Club work.

Fishing Boat Hits Rock, Towed In

The 80-foot fishing boat Giuseppe Maria, out of Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco, struck a rock off Point Bonita early today as it was heading back from sea with 30,000 pounds of rockfish.

The Coast Guard patrol vessel Comanche later towed the craft to its home port, while a Coast Guard small boat assisted with pumping water from the damaged craft.

The Giuseppe Maria, carrying a four-man crew skippered by John Lampi, radioed at 2:42 a.m. today that she was aground with two holes along her keel. Thirty minutes later, another radio call advised she had worked free from the rock but was taking on water.

The Comanche, berthed at Sausalito, reached the stricken vessel shortly after the second call. She was berthed safely at Fisherman's Wharf at 6:10 a.m.

Horn Sounds Fire Alarm

Fred Rynders of Mill Valley should be thankful his neighbor, H. M. Brown, is a light sleeper.

At 1:15 a.m. today, Brown was awakened by the noise of an automobile horn steadily blowing. Then he sniffed smoke drifting in the open bedroom window of his home at 127 Harvard Avenue.

Brown looked outside and saw the smoke was coming from the car of Rynders, next door at 125 Harvard Avenue. He called the Tamalpais Valley Fire Department, then stumbled next door in his pajamas to awake Rynders.

Firemen said wiring of the car had short-circuited and started a fire, sounding the horn. They estimated damage at $200.

Six Injured In Weekend Road Mishaps In Marin

Six persons suffered minor injuries in Marin County traffic accidents during the weekend as spring-like weather sent residents flocking to the highways.

Mrs. Barbara Riley, 23, of 215 First Street, San Rafael, was treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for whiplash injuries after her husband's car was sideswiped by another auto in front of the Air Force base at 6 a.m. Saturday.

California Highway Patrolman Gerald Walkup reported a car driven by Thomas E. Riley, 26, had stopped for a red light in the northbound lanes of Highway 101 when it was struck by a car driven by Christian J. Gingham, 18, of 1005 Greenwood Drive, Novato.

Gingham said he was northbound, saw the car stop and tried to swerve to avoid it. His car went into a skid and struck the Riley car. Gingham was cited for unsafe speed.

A four-car bumper-to-bumper accident on the north end of the Golden Gate Bridge at 6:15 p.m. Saturday tied up traffic for 15 minutes and injured one person.

Highway Patrolman Richard Topham said Carlos R. Soria, 28, of San Bruno, had stopped in the southbound lane of the bridge behind a stalled car when his auto was struck by a car driven by Edwin C. Perrin, 45, of Oakland.

Perrin suffered whiplash injuries when his car was hit in turn by an auto driven by Terry S. Moseanko, 25, of Sacramento. Perrin said he would see his own doctor; Moseanko was cited for unsafe speed.

A fourth car, driven by Maria K. Behr, 23, of Redwood City, slammed into the rear of Moseanko's car. She was also cited for excessive speed.

Morris L. Rush Jr., 17, of 14 Nave Court, Novato, suffered cuts of the chin and knee and abrasions of the legs when his car went out of control and rammed a light standard on the divider strip at Highway 101.

Highway 37 intersection at 12:30 a.m. yesterday.

The youth said he was northbound on Highway 101, saw the light change to red, put on the brakes and went into a skid. He was treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

Mrs. Georgette Ruth Oliver, 27, of 23 Pearl Street, Ross, suffered whiplash injuries at 3:10 a.m. yesterday when her small foreign car, northbound, bounced off a concrete abutment on the San Rafael viaduct just north of Third Street, flipped on its side and skidded down the highway.

Two Mill Valley residents were treated for cuts and bruises by their doctor yesterday after the car in which they were riding went out of control in Mill Valley, struck a redwood tree and they were thrown from the car.

Driver James K. Perry, 19, of 212 Cascade Drive, told police he was driving down Corte Madera Avenue near Winwood Place at 5:10 p.m. when his car hit a bump, the car spun around, hit a tree, then turned twice more and stopped.

Both Perry and his passenger, Mrs. N. Ramsey, 53, of 209 Corte Madera Avenue, were thrown from the car. Perry was treated for a cut over the left eye and on the nose. Mrs. Ramsey was treated for bruises under her left eye.

Oakland Man Feared Victim Of Span Leap

A 22-year-old Oakland gasoline station attendant was listed today as a possible suicide off the Golden Gate Bridge.

California Highway Patrolmen found a car and jacket belonging to Richard Dixon of Oakland on the east side of the bridge at midspan at 1:20 a.m. yesterday.

Two Santa Rosa couples, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartgenbush and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice A. Dont said they were southbound on the bridge when they saw a car stop in the northbound lane and a man walk toward the rail.

They notified Patrolmen Walter Erskine and Vincent Weimer at the toll gates, but by the time the officers arrived at Dixon's car there was no one there. Officers could find no pedestrian on the bridge.

A note scribbled on a torn piece of cardboard read: "I was born to lose. I am not going to have anyone to blame. (Signed) Dick." It was found in the car. The cloth jacket was lying on the sidewalk.

The Coast Guard searched in vain for the body.

Mosk Urges Democrats To Speed Up Activity

An "accelerated pace of political activity" for Democrats was urged over the weekend by Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk.

Speaking before a Bay Area meeting of the California Democratic Council, Mosk called upon his party to "amass information and impart it to the public" during 1961 because in 1962 the "activities might be considered as politically motivated."

Mosk was principal speaker at the luncheon meeting Saturday in Hotel Whitcomb, San Francisco, of a CDC issues conference in which scores of Marinites participated, both on the program and among the several hundred persons attending.

In the morning session, the group attended seven topic sessions at which panels and individual speakers discussed the whole field of problems facing the nation. In the afternoon, the group broke into a dozen or so smaller groups for general participation in the discussions.

Among Marinites who took a formal part in the event were M. Justin Herman of Sausalito, on the human rights panel; Andrew Kopac, San Quentin psychiatrist, on the crime and

Two Commissions To Solve Urban Problems Urged

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Creation of two commissions to help communities solve the problems of urban sprawl is proposed by Assemblyman Thomas M. Rees (D-Los Angeles).

Rees earlier introduced a bill to allow local voters to create multipurpose metropolitan districts which might cross county lines. Now he proposes:

1. A Metropolitan Areas Advisory Council to assist and advise local governments.

2. A local Boundaries Review Commission to advise on annexation problems and arbitrate disputes over annexation.

crime prevention panel; Mrs. Nanncy Swadesh of Mill Valley, who was chairman of panel on agriculture; Dr. Joseph Guthrie of Ross, resource person on medical care; Mrs. Joel Nemschoff of Kentfield and William Wilson, Marin attorney, resource persons on education.

The conference was preliminary to the annual meeting early in March in Santa Monica when the council's official position will be delineated.

Mosk pointed to a dozen appointments of Californians to high federal posts in the Kennedy administration, saying this is "more than just a share" of the administration and indicating the president is "well aware of the particular problem of California."

Democrats must "never let the public forget the great accomplishments" of the Brown administration in California, the attorney general went on.

GOP Names 3 To Rules Unit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican leaders today filled GOP vacancies on the House Rules Committee with three lawmakers with records of opposition to key measures on President John F. Kennedy's legislative program.

They were Reps. Katharine St. George of New York, H. Allen Smith of California and Elmer J. Hoffman of Illinois.

GOP leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana declined to characterize the three as conservative or liberal, saying only that "They're all good people."

Halleck rejected speculation that the three new GOP members, along with two others held over from the last congress, might try to keep Kennedy's proposals from reaching a vote in the house.

The House by a narrow vote decided last week to enlarge the committee from 12 to 15 members to prevent this.

Baylor Scores 45, But Loses Ground In NBA Point Race

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Elgin Baylor could play all his games against the Detroit Pistons, his race with Wilt Chamberlain for the National Basketball Assn. scoring lead might be closer—and the second-place race in the NBA Western Division might not be so close.

Baylor has averaged over 41 points in 11 games against the Pistons this season, well above his figure for all games. He tossed in 45 yesterday as he led the Los Angeles Lakers to a 125-120 victory that trimmed Detroit's second-place margin to 1½ games.

So what happened to Baylor in the personal duel? He lost more ground as Chamberlain scored 55 points — 11 in an overtime period—and led the Philadelphia Warriors to a 136-128 victory over the hapless New York Knickerbockers.

Bruins Keep Hopes Alive In Big Five Cage Scramble

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Don't kid yourself, pal. UCLA still might beat out Southern California for the Big Five basketball title.

The league-leading Trojans downed the Bruins, 78-63, on Friday but Coach John Wooden's troops roared back to hang an 86-83 defeat on sixth-ranked Southern Cal the following night and break an eight-game winning streak.

The shocker also clipped Southern California's lead to a game and a half over second place UCLA and the race could be settled on March 3 when the cross-town foes go at it for a third time at the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

John Rudometkin, the southland's answer to Gonzaga's Frank Burgess, meshed 37 points Saturday night in a vain cause, 22 of them coming in the second half. His lay up tied the score at 68-68 but UCLA moved to the front again and Maxwell, a pudgy, rosy-cheeked kewpie-doll type, won his $5,300 in cash the hard way—with a 14-under-par 345 to win the five-round open tournament. He was steady yesterday and finished fast with a two-under-par 34 on the back nine at Tamarisk Country Club while other contenders for the top money faltered.

January got his money—$50,000—in what has to be called the easy way. He scored a hole-in-one on the 15th hole at the Indian Wells course in the second round to get this bonus, but finished the tournament with 359 strokes in a tie for 40th place. The tie gave him an additional $18.33, which he can use to help pay the man who makes out his income tax.

Maxwell had a one-under-par 71 for the final round to go with his previous rounds of 68-70-68-68 and was two strokes ahead of the field.

SANDERS SECOND

Second place money of $3,400 went to Doug Sanders, the dashing Georgian who plays out of Ojai, Calif. Sanders had a final round 69, the same as Arnold Palmer, who won the first Palm Springs Classic last year. Palmer finished third and won $2,200, followed by Bill Casper, Apply Valley, Calif., with 349 and $1,900; and the San Francisco Bay Area stars, Ken Venturi and Bob Rosburg, at 350, which was good for $1,600 each.

Don Whitt, Borrego Springs, Calif., grabbed $1,400 for his seventh place 351. Three golfers, tied at 352, collected $1,200 each—Jack Fleck, the 1955 National Open champion from Los Angeles; Stan Leonard, the Vancouver, B.C., veteran, and Al Mengert, the Phoenix, Ariz. club pro who led the tournament in the second and third rounds but zoomed to a 76 and a 75 on the last two rounds.

Maxwell who carries 160 pounds on a 5-foot-7 frame, had not won a tournament since the 1958 Memphis Invitational, although he won about $18,000 last year.

PRACTICE HELPED

"This is a terrific feeling," he said. "I think a practice round I had here after I finished my fourth round helped me read the greens. I putted well here and that was the difference."

In the early stages of this tournament—the world's longest—there was a rash of under-par scores, including a half dozen or so 65s but the lowest final round was 69—scored by Palmer, Sanders and Jim Ferree, Crystal River, Fla., who finished at 353 and won $900.

Sanders sank an eight-foot birdie putt on the final green and it was good for exactly $1,200—the difference between second and third place.

In this endurance contest, played on five different courses in temperatures ranging from the high 70s to the low 80s, Rosburg, Venturi and Casper couldn't match the steady pace of Maxwell. Venturi moved out in front by one stroke on the first nine of the final round but finished with four-over-par 76. Rosburg and Casper both had final 75s. Both Rosburg and Venturi knocked balls out of bounds on the back nine. Venturi took an eight—double par—on the 15th hole.

Stanford, which dropped two during the weekend at Washington and Washington State, hosts the Trojans and Bruins next Friday and Saturday nights respectively. And it looks as if the southlanders can figure on staying in the win column.

Other Saturday scores and highlights: Washington State 83, Stanford 63—six Cougars hit for double figures while the Indians' John Sutherland took high honors with 19 points. A second half blast beefed up Washington State's 36-32 halftime lead.

Marines 71, California 64—the Golden Bears had hoped sweep their four games in Hawaii but a 20-foot jump shot by Ron Johnson put the Gyrenes on top to stay after Bill McClintock had tied the score for Cal at 61-61.

Marin Merman Wins Two At Alameda Meet

Ken Frost, Marin Pirates' crack breaststroker, started the 1961 swimming season with two big victories at the fifth annual Alameda Naval Air Station invitational meet over the weekend. Coach Beth Kaufman's 16-year-old whiz from Redwood High School took a gold medal in the men's senior 200-yard breast with the good time of 2 minutes, 35.5 seconds and went on to capture first in the 15-16 boys 100 with a 1:10.1.

NEW STAR

The Pirates introduced another rising star to the swimming world in the person of eight-year-old Robin Yeager who won the 25-yard freestyle for his age group. His time was 15.7 seconds.

Other of Coach Kaufman's charges to score in the meet were Bob Girvin, seconds, 10 and under boys 25 butterfly and sixth in the 25 free and 25 back; Jerry Keeler was third in the 10 and under 25 back, and Frost's teammate, John Osborne, took sixth in the 100 breast for boys 15 and 16.

S.F. State Beaten In Tourney Final

POMONA (AP)—Chapman College is the winner of the 1961 Pomona Basketball Classic. Chapman spurted in the second half to beat San Francisco State 73-68 Saturday night.

Gary Larsen scored 26 points and Bob Hibbard 21 for the winners. Richie Williams, voted the tournament's most valuable player, was high for the losers with 22.

Whittier beat Cal Poly of Pomona, the tournament host, 80-63, in the opener Saturday night.

WEEKEND FIGHTS

PREP CAGE SCHEDULE

Redwood Favored To Retain Lead Friday

By PAUL MILLER

First place in the Marin County Athletic League basketball race could be scrambled again this week if the leader losses and the two clubs sharing second place win—all this potential is for Friday's games. All but two of the league teams will play a practice game first. It is unlikely that there will be a shift in first place Friday with leader Redwood (5-1) meeting Novato (0-6) at Redwood. Drake may have big guns aimed at second place San Rafael, however. If the Pirates are hot enough to knock off the Bulldogs at San Rafael they would give themselves and San Rafael a 4-3 record. Yet Tam, by beating Marin Catholic, at the same time, could remain in second place with a 5-2 record and shove both Drake and San Rafael into sharing the third berth. The real tussle this week will be between Drake and San Rafael.

Before Redwood goes against Novato it will practice with Anala at home at 4 p.m. tomorrow. Novato, which has lost six straight league actions, will try for a breather at Tomales tomorrow, also at 4 p.m.

The same day and time Drake will practice against Montgomery at Santa Rosa and a little earlier tomorrow (3:15 p.m.), Tam will wrestle with Palo Alto. Marin Catholic, which has a 2-4 league record, and San Rafael have no practice game this week.

Coach Carl Brown will

Marin League Scoring Race Gets Tighter

A record-equalling 27-point spree by Marin Catholic's Ed O'Connell Friday night zoomed him into second place in the Marin Athletic League's individual scoring race, statistics showed today.

O'Connell in six games has registered 78 points for a 13.0 average, only one digit behind pace-setter Randy Petrini of San Rafael's Bulldogs.

The breakdown shows Petrini with 28 field goals and 23 foul throws for a total of 79 to O'Connell's 27-24-78.

Tamalpais High's Charles Bullock holds down third place with 69 points on 20 field goals, 29 free points and an 11.5 per game average.

Novato High hasn't won a game yet, but Horner Bob Sparrow is the league's fourth leading scorer with 63 on 24 field goals and 15 charities for a 10.5 average. Mike Bresnan of Drake is next in line with 58 markers.

THREE-WAY TIE

Next is a three-way tie between Norm Kreuter of Tam, Roger Siemens of Redwood and Sam Johnson of Drake, each with 51 points. Jim Sewell of Novato is the only other league member in the "Half A Hundred" Club with an even 50.

O'Connell's 27-point binge Friday night against Novato tied the league's individual single game record set last season by Terry Tevis of San Rafael.

Team statistics show why Redwood is in first place with a 5-1 won-lost record. In those six games the Giant defense has yielded only 212 points for a 35.3 average per game.

Tam's Indians have the best offense with 266 points and a 44.5 average.

Big Klu Inks Angels Pact

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Burly Ted Kluszewski, no friend of Ted Williams, is the latest member of the Los Angeles Angels to Return his signed contract, estimated at around $30,000.

Big Ted, who has bashed baseballs and played first base for the Cincinnati Reds, Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago White Sox during his major league career, batted .293 for Chicago last season in 81 games. He led the National League in home runs in 1954 with 49.

The well-muscled Argo, Ill., native sent a note along with his inked pact to Angel General Manager Fred Haney.

"I am happy to be a part of the Angels organization," he said, "I am looking forward to playing in Los Angeles."

Meanwhile, former New York Yankee hurler Eli Grba became the first pitcher to sign with the Angels.

The right-hander, who was with the Yankees for the past two seasons, was the eighth player to sign a contract with the new team. Sources said he would get an estimated salary of $10,000 for 1961.

Grba, 26-year-old native of Chicago who figures to be one of the stronger stalwarts on the mound this year, posted a 6-4 record in 1960 and has a 3.67 earned run average.

Stoneham Tips Hand That Dark Isn't Complete Boss, After All

When Al Dark said "I intend to be my own batting coach," it looked like Lefty O'Doul would miss his first spring training camp in 44 years. Then, the other day Horace Stoneham said he personally invited Lefty to act again as special batting coach in the Giant camp at Phoenix.

Maybe the president of the ball club telephoned Dark at his Lake Charles, La., home and cleared Lefty's appointment with the new manager.

As owner of the club, Stoneham did not need Dark's approval. However, if Stoneham did not seek it—merely as a courtesy gesture—Dark is going to wonder whether his authority in running the club is as absolute as Stoneham said it was.

As batting coaches go there is none better than Lefty who owns a .349 lifetime batting average in the majors, topped only by the likes of Ty Cobb, Rogers Hornsby and Joe Jackson. But that is not the point.

IN HIS final press conference at Candlestick Park just before returning to Lake Charles, Dark made it quite clear that he personally planned to handle any batting problems arising in spring training.

Perhaps Dark never even thought about O'Doul or was aware of Lefty's honorary status which temporarily was terminated when Dark said he intended to be his own batting coach. In any event, Stoneham has reversed his manager's decision and some of Stoneham's severe critics already are saying "I told you so."

STONEHAM has been criticized sharply for supposedly interfering during 1959 and again last season with Bill Rigney's managing of the Giants, something which Stoneham disavowed. Stoneham said he never ordered Rigney to play Andre Rodgers at shortstop during '59 and did not direct Rigney to keep Willie McCovey on first base last year. Rigney, mistakenly or otherwise, was of a different impression.

Now, after Dark believed he had complete authority in choosing his own coaches and making his own lineups, he finds himself over-ruled on one of his first decisions, not a momentous one, to be sure, but nevertheless one in which he seems to be second-guessed.

PERHAPS it was an honest and sentimental mistake on Stoneham's part, honest in that he was unaware of Dark's decision to be his own batting coach, sentimental in that he did not want to interrupt O'Doul's unique record of 44 consecutive years in spring training.

Then, on the other hand, it may be a significant straw in the wind signalling future second-guesses of a more important nature.

GINO MARCHETTI, visiting his hometown pals in Antioch, tells the following story about Baltimore Colt fans:

HANLEY

"In 1953 when they got the old Dallas Texans franchise they had only one request: beat the Washington Redskins. We did that.

"Then they asked us to beat the Chicago Bears. We did that, too.

"Then they wanted a .500 ball club and we became a .500 ball club.

"Now get us a championship was the plea. We got it. And then they asked us to repeat. And we repeated.

"Do it again, they demanded. But we missed making it three in a row. So now they are off us."

Marchetti, a nine year NFL veteran who has been a perennial All-Pro defensive end selection and Pro Bowl participant, now makes his home in Baltimore but says "the fans out here are the best."

GINO CIMOLI, the native San Franciscan, also is telling a story in "hot stove" circles that perhaps has a moral.

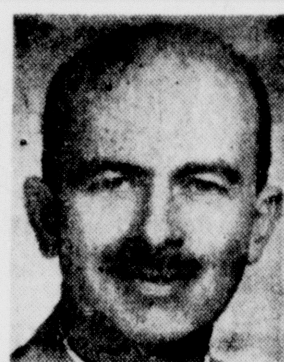

"I had a good '59 season and was due for a pretty good raise from the Cardinals, but was traded to the Pirates and was given a token boost," he says. "Even though I was used only as a spot player by the Pirates I thought my performance during the season and participation in a couple of rallies that won two games in the World Series insured me of a raise."

However, the 1961 contract sent Cimoli called for the same salary he received last year. Cimoli sent it back unsigned and received a letter from Joe Brown, Pirate general manager, advising him that raises are based strictly on individual performances during the preceding year.

"All this time," said Cimoli, "I've been led to believe that our success last season was due to a Pirate team effort."

Check Your Spine As Well
As Your Car

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

The wise motorist will have his car checked and repaired as soon as any of the important parts begin to show signs of wear and tear. Most car owners know that continued driving of an automobile with a faulty carburetor or distributor will cause damage and inefficiency in other parts of the vehicle.

The same thing happens when disease overtakes us. If we neglect a digestive fault for instance, the intestines, liver, gall bladder, circulatory system, the heart and other organs soon will begin to lose their efficiency because of the extra demand placed upon them.

But because of the body's amazing system of defenses, some time may pass before we notice the symptoms which indicate disease. Symptomatic pain is a warning signal that something is wrong and requires attention.

Most of us agree with the old saying that an "ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." But how can we be sure of prevention? The nervous system is the master system of the body. When the flow of nerve energy to any organ or part is blocked, disease will occur in that organ or part. Such interference in the nervous system nearly always occurs in the spine, which carries the main nerve cables.

When a spinal bone or vertebra is pushed out of line by a fall or an accident, it will press, pinch or stretch one or more of the nerves inside or just outside the spine. As a result, the organs affected will not get their proper nerve supply and may become diseased. The obvious answer then is to repair the nerve supply.

Chiropractors specialize in finding and correcting nerve interference in the spine. The adjustments they are able to make with their trained hands are painless and effective.

Amonini-Nave Win Italian Tournament

A couple of happy-go-lucky Italians, playing in a foursome that looked like a scene out of "Roman Holidays," walked off with the lion's share of glory yesterday in the Marin Golf and Country Club's unique and colorful "Italian Carnevale" golf tournament.

Winner of the best-ball competition was the team of Raymond Amonini and Robert Nave, entered under the banner of Nave Lanes bowling establishment at Ignacio. They had a net score of 55, four strokes ahead of the second place tandem of Ken Baker and Fred Volz.

Bob Nave and his brothers Bill Jr. and Rich composed the foursome with Amonini and they indeed were the most colorful and noisiest entries among the 130 golfers who toured the picturesque north Marin course. The Naves dressed as Brutus, Nero and Caesar (see photos), exploded fire crackers and, in general, raised all sorts of confusion. In spite of this, however, Amonini turned in a gross card of 78, best game of his career. With little help from Bob Nave but a lot of help in the handicap system, the 55 team score was far out in front of the flock.

Following Baker-Volz were chefs Guido Farina and Frank Sampietro with 61, tied with the teams of Frank Cangelosi-Duane Lundgren and Haskell Titchell-Art Schallack, the former major league pitcher.

Tied at 62 were Ozzie Osborne-Pat McGrath and Dr. Richard Albert-Richard Forster.

In the 63 bracket came Al Goodman-Bill Munson and John Cala-Larry Schmidt.

NEVERS PLAYS

Former football star Ernie Nevers and teammate Doug Cowen turned in a card of 64 to tie with Bill Williams-Mike Beral and Stan Mertel-Jack Blaine.

Low gross honors went to pro Bob Silva and partner Fred O'Bannon with 69. Tied at 70 in gross scoring were Bob Vannucci, pro George Spiane and Osborne-McGrath.

The field of 130 was split into two gigantic teams and "The Meatballs," defeated "The Spaghettis" by a handy score.

The losing team treated the winning team to a post-tourney feast last night.

Meanwhile, the Marin club was trying to regain its composure today. It may take some time, however.

Barrow Meets Ratliff At Kezar Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Kirk Barrow, rising Spokane heavyweight, seeks to register the 10th knockout of career tonight when he faces former California light heavyweight champion Monroe Ratliff in a 10-rounder at Kezar pavilion.

Barrow was scheduled to meet Floyd Joyner of Phoenix, but promoter Lou Thomas announced last night that Joyner's father died and the boxer was returning to Arizona.

The 21-year-old, hard-hitting Barrow chalked up his 19th victory a month ago when he stopped Sixto Rodriguez, of San Anselmo, present California state light heavyweight champ.

Barrow's handlers would like to match him with Bobo Olson, former world middleweight champion, if he defeats Ratliff tonight.

Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves batted only .292 last season after a .355 campaign in 1959, but in 1960 he led the National League with 126 runs batted in.

INVASION?—Flying the American flag but dressed as invaders from another nation, the Nave Brothers found the gondola convenient on one of the Marin Golf Club's water holes yesterday in the "Italian Carnevale" tournament. Seems Bill Nave (right) had one of his tee shots go into the drink, so the brothers set forth to retrieve it. Lending a hand with paddles are Bob (left) and Rich.

ROME BURNS—Nero fiddled while Rome burned, but Caesar putted in this scene yesterday. Caesar, in this case, was Rich Nave. Ray Amonini holds flag and Nave's brothers Bob

Ideal Weather Helps Corinthian Regatta

By ALFRED MATSON

Corinthian Yacht Club surely must be in the good graces of mother nature. Since its inception nine years ago, there have been but two races cancelled because of weather.

The final race yesterday for the 1960-61 series was made to order for the sailing buff; a steady breeze, sunny skies and smooth seas. Racoon Strait, in the area off the host club, prior to the start was a sight to warm the heart of even the most dedicated landsman, 155 racing craft wheeling and dealing in a near formalized pattern.

The course designated by the race committee was the short one, Crissy Buoy, Degaussing Buoy and back to the starting line. In consequence, the fleet was home early, the bigger boats requiring but one hour and a half.

O'DAY WINS

The only American winner of a gold medal at the Olympics last year, George O'Day, was not only a distinguished guest but also a participant. On invitation, he tillered the Knarr fleet and, although it was his first race in a boat of that class, he proceeded to show the local Knarrites that his gold medal was rightfully awarded as he was home first by a comfortable margin.

Yesterday's winners (the season's champions are indicated by the number one in parenthesis):

Minnesota Teacher Speed Skates To National Title

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP)—The battle lines are drawn tightly as to the best senior men's speed-skater in the country, but Jeanne Ashworth has the women's field all to herself.

Miss Ashworth skated off with her second major title on successive weekends when she won the senior women's crown yesterday in the North American Outdoor Championships.

A week ago in St. Paul, Minn., she dethroned Mary Novak of Chicago in the National Outdoor Championships, Miss Novak was unable to make the North American.

Arnold Uhrlass won the senior men's title, but never got a second shot at Ed Rudolph of Chicago, who edged him by two points in the National.

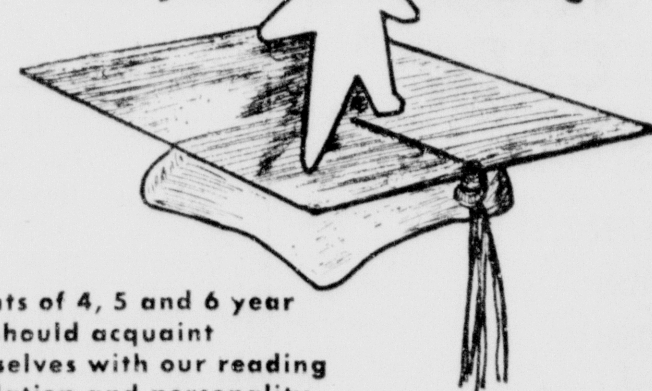

Uhrlass doesn't think he'll get another shot at Rudolph this year either, for he doesn't plan to enter the North American Indoor Championships five weeks hence in Buffalo, N.Y.

Miss Ashworth, a high school physical education teacher in Massachusetts, complained of lack of practice time and hopes it won't keep her out of the indoor championships. However, she felt she skated just about as well yesterday as she ever has.

High Water Calls Off Hunt For Car Victim

High water in the canal under the Yolo County causeway has stopped a search for the body of Richard F. Stokes, 37, of Larkspur, owner of a car that crashed off the causeway into the canal Thursday.

The body of Robert Edmond Whitt, 28, a transient, was found trapped in the wreckage. The Yolo County sheriff's office said today it had given up the search because of high water and debris that is preventing searchers from dragging the canal.

The 1955 Plymouth was registered to Stokes whose wife, Mrs. Evelyn Stokes, and seven-month-old son reside at 19 Locust Avenue, Larkspur.

Stokes has been in the Sacramento area looking for work, his wife reported Saturday. She said she did not believe he was in the car at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Stokes could not be reached for comment today. She is employed by Marsh, McLennan, Cosgrove and Co. in San Francisco.

Descriptive Name Urged For New Larkspur School

The Mariner Cove Improvement Assn. today came out with its recommendations on what to name a new elementary school to be built by the Larkspur School District.

The improvement association's board of directors, headed by Chairman Raymond J. Brandt, issued this statement:

"We respectfully submit that a descriptive area name such as Mariner Cove or Paradise Drive Elementary is far more practical for identification reasons and that such a name be given major consideration by those persons responsible for naming the new school."

Noting that some Larkspur residents are urging the school be named for Belle Brown, longtime San Rafael teacher, founder of the Larkspur Women's Club and one of the organizers of the Larkspur Public Library, the association's board declared:

"Most of us in the area have not known of this particular person prior to the clamor about naming the school after her. We admire her many qualities which we have heard about but do not feel that this name would accomplish any particular purpose other than to honor a worthy person."

Youth Drives Car At Man

Ralph Conrad Hoetger of 8 Homestead Boulevard, Homestead Valley, maintenance director for Tamalpais Union High School District, told sheriff's deputies Friday night that a carload of teen-agers tried to run him down after a high school basketball game.

He told Deputy William N. McKillop that when he approached the car that had speeded out of the Redwood High School parking lot at 10:35 p.m. and asked for the driver's identification, the driver started the car up suddenly, spinning him around. When he clung to the car, Hoetger said, the driver stopped the car, got out and hit him in the face before speeding off.

U.S. Studying How To Get Red China Into Disarm Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk disclosed today that administration disarmament experts are studying the problem of whether and how Communist China can be brought into proposed disarmament schemes.

At his first news conference, Rusk also warned the American people against being unduly optimistic, as he put it, about improvements in relations with the Soviet Communist bloc. He said serious days and hard work lie ahead.

Rusk discussed U.S. foreign relations issues and answered questions for about 40 minutes.

He said the State Department public relations policy would be one of candid disclosure wherever possible and declared he fully recognizes the importance of an informed public opinion.

In a statement, Rusk called for development of a United Nations plan to bring peace and unity to the strife torn Congo but he said the primary responsibility "rests with President Joseph Kasavubu and other Congolese and leaders."

Rusk announced that Arthur H. Dean, New York attorney who has held some important diplomatic assignments in the past, will be chief U.S. negotiator when the nuclear test ban conferences resume at Geneva March 21.

Russia agreed Saturday to a postponement from Feb. 7 to the new date.

On still another subject Rusk declared that the United States is "prepared to cooperate actively with the other American states to end tyranny, whether of the left or right."

He did not specifically mention Cuba in this connection but the reference seemed clear.

Rusk declined to be drawn into a detailed discussion of his ideas about Red China, disarmament and related problems.

He said he could not say at what time or by what means the United States might believe China should be associated with work on disarmament. But he declared that it will not be possible to maintain any disarmament plan unless all important nations can be brought into it.

His discussion of relations with Russia was in slightly greater detail. Just because there is a new administration in Washington or a change in the wording of Moscow statements, Rusk said, there should be no assumption that serious problems have disappeared.

Aid Measures Spelled Out By Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy submitted to Congress today detailed proposals to extend unemployment compensation benefits and provide federal aid for needy children of out-of-work parents.

Kennedy requested swift enactment of the measures in letters to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn. His request was accompanied by suggested drafts of the legislation and supporting statements by the secretaries of labor and health, education and welfare.

Kennedy previously had announced his intention to take this action as part of a broad-scale federal effort to relieve the impact of the current recession.

The documents sent to Congress were not immediately available, but associate press secretary Andrew Hatcher said one bill submitted by the president provided for a temporary federal program to continue additional unemployment compensation payments to workers whose state benefits have been exhausted.

The other proposed bill would authorize temporary federal participation in programs of state aid to needy children of unemployed parents.

"The need for prompt enactment of this legislation is clear," the president said in his letters to Johnson and Rayburn.

Electric Firms Fined On Anti-Trust Counts

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Six large electrical companies, General Electric and Westinghouse among them, were fined a total of $150,000 today on the first of 20 federal indictments charging bid rigging and price fixing in violation of anti-trust laws.

J. H. Chiles, a Westinghouse vice president, was given a 30-day jail term, one of the few times a defendant was sentenced to jail in an anti-trust case. Chiles also was fined $2,000.

Chief Judge J. Cullen Gandy described the case involving 29 of the nation's biggest electrical firms as "a shocking indictment of a vast segment of our economy." He said the defendants "mocked the image" of the nation's free enterprise system.

General Electric and Westinghouse each received $40,000 fines on the first count, involving the sale of power transformer equipment. On the same count, Judge Gandy fined Allis-Chalmers $25,000, McGraw-Edison $20,000, Moloney Electric Co. $15,000 and Wagner Electric $10,000.

In his pre-sentencing remarks, Judge Gandy said those who guided the companies "bear a grave responsibility for what has happened. Accordingly heavy fines will be imposed on the companies."

Boy, Girl Named Yo-Yo Champs

A boy and girl were crowned yo-yo champions Saturday after winning the yo-yo contest in the auditorium of the E Street School sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department.

Don Hawken, 11-year-old sixth grader from San Pedro School and Linda Schmid, 10-year-old fifth grader at Sun Valley School, were awarded desk pen sets.

They will compete in a regional tournament Feb. 16 at 7 p.m. in the Hillsdale High School, San Mateo.

State finals will be held in San Jose March 10.

The same road...but what a difference!

This is the lane that leads home—and he has driven it more times than he can remember.

But there's something different about it today—for this is the first time it has rolled beneath the wheels of his new Cadillac car.

And here, as he is now discovering, is motordom's truest miracle in motion.

First of all, there's the way a 1961 Cadillac smooths out that familiar surface. By the time those bumps and irregularities have been absorbed in that marvelous new suspension system... and cushioned in those deep Cadillac seats... they are almost impossible to detect.

Then there is the car's extraordinary quiet. Cadillac's careful craftsmanship and precision engineering provide such silence of operation that you can speak in a whisper.

And what poise and balance the car has! It is wonderfully steady and sure-footed through every mile... and it has a feeling of solidity and substance that comes from no other motor car.

Of course, these are but a few of the myriad pleasures of driving the new "car of cars"—in addition to its great handling ease and its magnificent interior comfort and luxury.

May we suggest that you take a 1961 Cadillac out soon on some challenging stretch of highway—and see for yourself?

Your Cadillac dealer will be happy to let the car work its magic for you at any time.

GIANT RED SATIN hearts framed with white net along with ticket boxes with spritely cupids will be decorative motif on Saturday evening when the Marin Inter-City Council of Beta Sigma Phi stages its

PROCEEDS FROM the Saturday night event to be held at the Mill Valley American Legion Hall will go to Marin Aid to Retarded Children. Working on the decorations are, from left, Mesdames James Farris; J. T. McKeever, E. H. Alwes, general chairman; Gordon Rodgers, president of the Marin Inter-City Council; Philip Fairlie and Norwood Arnold.

Five Queens Will Reign At Beta Sigma Phi's Gala Ball

One queen from each of the five Beta Sigma Phi Chapters comprising Marin's Inter-City Council will reign at their Valentine Ball, Feb. 11, at the Mill Valley American Legion Hall, from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Ten-thirty o'clock is the crowning hour! As symbols of their reign, Mrs. Gordon Rodgers, president of Marin Inter-City Council, will formally present rhinestone tiaras to Mrs. Norman Petersen, Gamma Omicron chapter; Miss Marilyn Davies, Omicron Alpha chapter; Mrs. Dorothy De La Montanya, Xi Alpha Xi chapter; Mrs. Glenn Dunbar, Upsilon Gamma chapter; and Miss Jane Tiafay, Phi Gamma Mu chapter, as they parade through a heart bedecked white arbor and are introduced to the assembled throng.

Mrs. E. H. Alwes, general chairman of the Ball, and Mrs. James Farris, her co-chairman have announced that the chapters' plans have been coordinated.

The decoration committee under the direction of Mrs.

Jack Megarity will arrange the hall with giant red satin hearts framed with white net, some decorated with white flowers and others with pearls. Tables will be graced by spritely red foil cupids and hearts.

Mrs. Dorothy De La Montanya and her ticket committee will greet arriving guests in the foyer before a white tree trimmed with frosted Valentine hearts. They will carry red and white decorated ticket boxes.

A buffet dinner will be set for the couples' dining pleasure by Jane Tiafay and her committee shortly before midnight. The serving table will be resplendent with "hearts and cupids" too—in keeping with the theme of the dance.

Beta Sigma Phi has selected Marin Aid to Retarded Children (MARC) again this year to be the recipient of all proceeds from this philanthropic project. MARC is a United Fund Agency that is affiliated with the California Council for Retarded Children and the National Assn. for Retarded Children.

Further ticket information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Dorothy De La Montanya, 301 Highland Avenue, San Rafael.

Beta Sigma Phi extends to all Marinites an invitation to attend their ball—help Cupid's Arrow to Score Again for MARC!

Luncheon Honors Mrs. Whitmore

Mrs. Betty Giesick of San Rafael entertained at a luncheon yesterday honoring a neighbor, Mrs. Harriet Whitmore, who was celebrating her 83rd birthday. Old friends as well as newer ones were the guests. Mrs. Whitmore has been a resident of San Rafael for 37 years.

Other guests were Mesdames May Cornwell, Tony Yost, Jane Wilson, Faye Scovell, Ellie Wilson, Marie Sowatsch, John Evans, Owen Willis, Beth Becker and John Porter.

St. John's Episcopal Setting For Hayman-Ryder Nuptial Rites

The aisles and chancel of St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross were decorated with candles, white stock, gladiolas and snapdragons on Saturday afternoon when Arley Arthur Hayman III claimed Jean Ryder as his bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory brocade gown of regal simplicity, its princess lines ending in a chapel length train. The sleeves were long and pointed at the wrist and the scoop neckline revealed a single strand of pearls. Her classic beauty was emphasized by an unusual puff veil held only by a tiny headband of the brocade. She carried a spray bouquet of gardenias.

Rev. Harold Hallett officiated at the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Boniface Ryder of Belvedere. Parents of the bridegroom are Col. and Mrs. Arley Arthur Hayman, Jr. of San Rafael.

Miss Bonnie Lou Ryder was maid of honor for her sister and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles Robinson Upton (Janet Graham) of Mill Valley, Miss Margaret Hayman of San Rafael, sister of the groom and Miss Linnea Kiewert of Anaheim. Each attendant was gowned in an afternoon length sheath of periwinkle blue organza over taffeta with a red-tinge style overskirt. They carried spray bouquets in ivory tones.

Preceding the bride and her attendants in the wedding procession were the Rev. Hallett acolytes and the boys' choir of St. John's Church.

Lawrence Gaisford of Toro Air Force Base was best man and Robert Kimmel, Lars Weseth and Charles Upton ushered the guests to their seats. Frederick Hayman, younger brother of the groom, served as a junior usher.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Meadow Club where the young couple received their guests before the massive fireplace and a background of white flowers. The Misses Nancy Kruger and Denise Roszell, both cousins of the bride were in charge of the guest book while younger cousins Alice and Kathlee Jennings supervised the rice.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Ryder chose a Dior blue silk featuring a dropped waistline and floating panels with shaded blue accessories. She wore white stephanosis.

Mrs. Hayman wore lace over taffeta in graduated tones of beige and wine with wine accessories and blending orchids.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Patrick Jennings, formerly of San Francisco, now residing in Sonoma. Her paternal grandparents were the late Judge and Mrs. William Boniface Ryder of San Francisco. She is a graduate of Tamalpais High School, College of Marin and the Grace Ball Secretarial College. She is employed at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Rafael.

The bridegroom attended school in Europe for four years and graduated from the Georgia Military Academy. He is continuing his studies at College of Marin following a tour of duty in the Coast Guard.

In addition to his brother Frederick, he has another brother, Christopher Taylor Hayman and one sister Miss Margaret Britton Hayman. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arley Arthur Hayman of Broadnax, Va. Mrs. Frederick William Britton of Petersburg, Va. and the late Mr. Britton.

Before leaving on a ski trip to the sierras, the bride changed to an Italian knit suit in royal blue. The new Mr. and Mrs. Hayman will reside in Kentfield.

Many parties honoring the couple preceded the nuptials. Cocktails were served for the bridal party at the San Rafael home of Mr. and Mrs. Dumont Kimmel. Mrs. Carl Warden of San Francisco gave a linen shower. Mrs. Lytton Schwerin of San Rafael a kitchen equipment shower and a kitchen staple shower was hosted by Mesdames Robert Evans, Edgar Chiswell, Albert Hand and Martin Bramante of Belvedere. While the groom and his friends indulged in the bachelor dinner, the bride and her attendants were honored by Mesdames Marion Graham and Charles Upton. The festivities climaxed with the rehearsal dinner hosted by the parents of the groom.

DEADLINE SET FOR OAC JINKS

The "Wonderful World of Make-Believe" will become a reality at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley Thursday when members don every kind of costume their imaginations and the theme dictate for an afternoon of fun at the club's annual "Jinks."

Mrs. Stewart Bostwick will again be chairman, as she has for many years, of this traditional event when serious club affairs are forgotten. Those not wearing costumes will be fined.

A number of skirts are being planned, she reports, for the show that will follow the luncheon co-chaired by Mesdames Joseph Wittenmeier and Gerald Misner.

Mrs. David Vail is in charge of the sherry hour starting at 12:30 p.m., and Mrs. John Laurie is planning decorations.

Other members assisting the co-chairmen are Mesdames Alex Almerants, E. M. Tobin, Lenard Mayrisch, A. B. Goddard and G. F. Conzelman.

Short-E St. P-TA To Have Annual Pot Luck Dinner

The annual Pot-Luck Dinner of the Short-E Street P-TA will be held in the E Street School auditorium on Friday, February 10, starting at 6:30 p.m.

The program will be a full one as Kenneth Phelps, Magician; The Sea Sharps Quartet, and the Marin-ettes (Marin Chapter of Sweet Adeline Chorus) will entertain both the children and their parents. Also, in honor of Founders' Day, the Honorary Life Membership for the year will be awarded.

Chairmen for the event are Mrs. James Simmons and Mrs. James Milton.

Large Crowd Anticipated For Guild's 'Mardi Gras' Dance

Two hundred members and guests of the Sleepy Hollow Guild of Sunny Hills will attend the Guild's festive dinner dance, "Mardi Gras in Rio," on Feb. 11 at the Sleepy Hollow Center.

Committees have worked diligently, and the culmination of their efforts will be seen in the transformation of the clubhouse into a South American carnival scene. A roast beef dinner and the music promise an evening of enjoyment.

Special entertainment is planned for later in the evening when masks may be removed and identities revealed. An artist will be on hand to do personalized caricatures of guests.

Acting as general chairman of this event, Mrs. William Worth has been assisted by the Mesdames Robert Ballache, food; William Worrall, entertainment; Walter Patzlaff, decorations; Theodore Bullock and Wendall Miller, reservations; and Russell Labelle, properties.

The proceeds from this affair will directly support the operating budget of Sunny Hills through its Annual Grape Festival. The Sleepy Hollow Guild is known for its White Elephant booth at the festival which is held each year on the first Saturday of October at the grounds in San Anselmo.

Among those entertaining before dinner will be the following: Mrs. Ernest Winkler, guild president, who will have as her guests Mr. and Mrs. David Waldron, Paul Matson, the David MacAuslands and the Dale Schnells. The Harold Langs are planning to attend with Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Kern and Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Kinslow. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Worth will be the Frank Fahs, Chester Siversens, Alex Klimens, Mr. and Mrs. William Koepff and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Perez, some of whom will be arriving from the East Bay and the peninsula in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patzlaff and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parish will entertain the Henry Johnsons, Gerald Cervellis, Richard Parishes and Mr. and Mrs. William Travis. Mr. and Mrs. John Young, former residents of Sleepy Hollow now living in Lodi, will attend the party with the Al Porters.

Reservations are limited, but if still available they may be obtained by contacting either Mrs. Theodore Bullock or Mrs. Wendall Miller.

Rainbow Mothers Plan Magic Tea

A Glamor Magic Tea is being planned by the Mother's Club of Tamalpais Assembly No. 191, Rainbow for Girls. The tea will be given on Tuesday, Mar. 14 at the home of Mrs. Willard L. Frier, Shady Lane, Ross, starting at 2 p.m.

A representative from a local charm school will discuss poise and makeup and answer questions. Proceeds from the event will be used to help the girls with their various activities.

Mrs. Ernest Winkler is general chairman for the tea and Mrs. J. A. Murray has charge of the food. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Paul Hantzsch in Tiburon.

Scout Council To Be Hostess To Arts Caravan, Feb. 7-10

The Marin County Girl Scout Council will be the hostess Council to the Arts Caravan, a mobile training project of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., at Arequipa, Fairfax, from Feb. 7 through 10, to give training courses in the arts to Girl Scout adult members from 15 neighboring councils. In addition to the Bay Area Councils represented, councils from the Sacramento and Santa Cruz areas will also attend.

The caravan offers adults in Scouting the chance to partake in a variety of courses, institutes and workshops in different arts fields, divided into three groupings — music and dance, literature and drama, and arts and crafts. The purpose of the project is to improve the quality of creative arts programming for all girls in Scouting.

Arts Caravan started in New Jersey, on Oct. 5, 1959. During the first year, the caravan team traveled close to 14,000 miles, offering art instruction to more than 1,500 Girl Scout leaders and other volunteers in 11 states along the Eastern Seaboard and in the Middle Atlantic region. Now in its second year, the caravan is scheduled to visit 14 states in the West, Southwest and Northwest areas, including Alaska. The mobile unit will reach all sections of the country before the end of its three-year tour in the Fall of 1962.

CARAVAN STAFF

The caravan staff is under the direction of Mrs. Alta Schroll, a consultant in art and music for the past nine years in the Leavenworth, Kan., public school system. Her two assistants are: Miss Ruth Ward of Roselle Park, N.J., a professional Girl Scout staff member for 20 years, serving as executive director of a New Jersey Council, and as Camp Director in Aruba, Netherlands Antilles, besides camping in the Philippines, Pakistan, Greece and Puerto Rico; and Miss Ingrid Lowzow of Oslo, Norway, an international trainer, on leave from Oslo University's Natural History Museum, who has been a member of the Girl Guides of Norway since 1939 and designed the Norwegian Girl Guide Handbook.

ART TAKES TO THE ROAD in the Girl Scouts' Art Caravan which will visit Marin at Arequipa, Fairfax from Feb. 7 to 10. From left are Miss Ingrid Lowzow of Oslo, Norway; Mrs. Alta Schroll, director and Miss Ruth Ward.

The caravan, a specially equipped station wagon, carries film and film-strips, projectors, arts and craft supplies, a sewing machine, books, records and exhibit material for use in training demonstrations and classes. A special feature is a display of 75 pictures, painted, drawn and printed by Girl Scouts from 7 to 17 years of age for the recent national "Picture Your Home Frontier" project.

WORKSHOP
Workshop courses will give participants program ideas and skills to share with girls of all age levels in troops and camps with the emphasis on learning a few skills well. There are demonstrations, exhibits of materials and publications, and guidance on community resources and troop planning.

Attending the Arts Caravan from Marin Council will be: Mesdames Paul White and E. B. Jones of Mill Valley, John Harvey of Strawberry, George Daum of Corte Madera, L. A. Perazzo of San Anselmo, Frank Helton, Michael McNally and Robert Pingel of San Rafael, Joseph Wrenn of Santa Venetia, George Paldi and Fred Thompson of Terra Linda, and Richard Herr and Per Rundberg of Marinwood.

Further information regarding the Arts Caravan can be obtained at the Girl Scout office, 739 A Street, San Rafael.

Thomson Pupils Hold Workshop Piano Recitals

The third in a series of piano recitals was recently presented by the students of Constance Thomson. These programs were of the workshop type where the pupils performed compositions that were in their current lessons rather than the formal recital where the exhibition type of music is played.

Mrs. Thomson made pointed remarks about the music being played so that the technique involved could be appreciated by all. New books and methods were also employed and verbally illustrated.

Refreshments were served after each performance to the guests by the hostess and her pupils.

A change of locale was offered to the advanced students when the program was presented in the music room of the Douglas Godfrey residence.

The young musicians who participated in the three programs were Holly Vernon, Joan Morehouse, Susan Graham, Don Murray, Susan Smith, Yolanda Godfrey, Sally Hasse, and Nan Grimes.

Also taking part were Perrylyn Welsh, Judy Parsons, Shirley Fisher, Sharon Dixon, Electa Fairchild, and Debbie Roberts.

Strawberry P-TA Will Hear Talk By 3R Educator

"Why is the 3R School Better than Public Schools?"

This provocative question will be posed, and presumably answered, by a colorful and controversial educator on Wednesday, Feb. 8 at 8 p.m. when the Strawberry Point Parent-Teacher Association will present James Kirchanski, founder of the 3R schools.

Starting six years ago with only $90 and a dream of an ideal school combining the best qualities of European and American education, Kirchanski now has 225 pupils in his Marin school, a recently opened school in Calistoga and plans to open another school in Berkeley soon. His methods have attracted much attention and have recently been warmly praised by the eminent British author-scientist, C. P. Snow.

Kirchanski was born in Yugoslavia, educated both there and in America and graduated from Wayne University with majors in German and Russian. He studied for two years at the University of California, working toward a PhD in political science. He later taught school for seven years. Besides being a fluent linguist, Kirchanski plays the violin and takes organ lessons along with his three children.

"Whether or not they agree with Kirchanski's dynamic approach to education, the public school children's parents should find his appearance at the Strawberry Point school interesting and thought-provoking," according to Dr. William L. Clark, president of the P-TA.

CFWC Plans Easter Week In Hawaii

On the evening of March 25 a group from the Bay Area districts of the California Federation of Women's Clubs will gather at the San Francisco International Airport for a bon voyage party prior to their eight-day, fun-filled tour to Hawaii.

Members of the clubs comprising the Golden Gate and Alameda districts, together with their families and friends, are invited to join the gala Hawaiian holiday.

Features of the budget-priced tour and the carefully planned activities include round-trip air transportation, the traditional Hawaiian welcoming ceremony with flower leis, accommodations at Waikiki's Hawaiian Village Hotel, a special cocktail party for the C.F.W.C. group, dinner at an authentic Japanese Tea House, important sidetrips to famous island spots, luncheon at the Waioli Tea Room which is the site of Robert Louis Stevenson's grass shack, outrigger canoe ride, Pearl Harbor cruise, Koko Head tour, Aloha dinner, genuine "Polynesian luau, plus more typical Hawaiian entertainment.

Something new to see and do will be provided each day of the stay with ample free time for the group to do its own adventuring and exploring.

Everyone is invited to join, and reservations should be sent in as soon as possible while space is available. Phone or write to Mrs. A. J. Crichton Jr., tour chairman, Spring Valley Lane, Millbrae.

Greco, Dancers Inspire Theme For View Show

Senoras and senoritas, "Fashions With A View" will be as bright and beautiful as "la manzanita" a Spanish Butterfly—on Thursday at the Ondine when it wings in to say "Buenas Dias, It's Spring" with fashions by a San Francisco store.

The famed Jose Greco and his Spanish Dancers whose appearance in San Francisco on Feb. 24 will benefit the Mothers' Milk Bank has influenced Thursdays fashion luncheon, and inspired its theme for the day.

Sparkling the afternoon will be Mrs. Richard Leonard, president of the Mothers Milk Bank Auxiliary, who will be welcomed as the "guest with a viewpoint" along with Mrs. Adolphus Graupner, president of the Mothers' Milk Bank and Mrs. Edward Earl Brownell, a co-founder.

Promenading the beautiful butterfly look of coordinator Alexis Benioff will be Mrs. William Byron Wallace, Mrs. Clarence Amonette Jr., and Mrs. John Bellamy Jr., joined by Mrs. Edwin Callan and Mrs. Frank Chambers of San Francisco.

Reservations to awake from a late siesta and enjoy "Fashions With a View" may be made by calling the Ondine.

Triple C Hears Dr. R. B. Hartman

Possibly the most important use of "Hypnotism in Medicine Today" can be, through teaching people techniques of relaxation and attaining peace of mind, to take the place of tranquilizers.

This was the point stressed by Dr. R. B. Hartman of Mill Valley in his lecture at Wednesday's monthly luncheon meeting of the Mill Valley Community Church Club.

There are dangers in the growing use of tranquilizers, he said, because man is not meant to be completely free of anxieties, which often serve important purposes.

As many as 50 per cent of a doctor's patients may not be "sick" organically, Dr. Hartman commented, but they are "dis-eased," and need to learn to be at ease.

After explaining that hypnotism is almost as ancient as man and far from a mysterious power, the physician said that it is, however, difficult to define. He compared it to electricity, which is better described by what it does than what it is.

About 85 per cent of all people can be hypnotized to some degree, he said, with the only exceptions being imbeciles and the very intelligent with highly analytical minds.

Since it is not a kind of sleep, he declared, it is misnamed "Hypnotism" (derived from the Greek word for sleep) and should be called instead "Mono-idealism" because it is concentration of attention on a single idea, cutting out competing and critical impressions.

Nor is it a matter of will, he insisted, but of willingness and ability to let the imagination take over.

Some of the popular but false conceptions he described were that good subjects are gullible, may tell embarrassing facts about themselves or others, can be forced to do things against their moral standards, and may be impossible to "awake."

Among the fields in which he said hypnotism is being used successfully are child birth, certain gynecological conditions, inducing pre and post operative control of pain; elimination of skin difficulties, bad behaviour, and asthma; control of hypertension, smoking, obesity and the gag reflex during dentistry; and as a psychiatric tool in locating causes of neuroses.

Entire removal of neurotic symptoms can be dangerous, Dr. Hartman warned, because the symptom may serve an important purpose in the personality. This is one of the reasons why hypnotism in the hands of amateurs is bad.

At the conclusion of his talk many in the audience asked questions.

During the business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Gilbert Barnes, the membership chairman, Mrs. Robert Moore, introduced one new member, Mrs. Louis Pabst, and welcomed as reinstatements Mesdames Paul Hund and W.

DISCUSSING PLANS for the benefit concert — the world premiere of a choral work composed especially for the Winifred Baker Chorale — sponsored by the Mills College Alumnae of Marin are three alumnae members, from left, Mesdames Robert Gaw, Robert Schultz, chairman, and Barnett Sumski. The event will be held at Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus, San Rafael, on Feb. 18 at 8 p.m.

THE MILLS ALUMNAE have planned a gala champagne reception for members and special guests at the Frances Young Art Gallery at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross following the concert. Going

'MUSICAL FIRST'

Mills Alumnae Concert To Feature Winifred Baker Group

A musical "first" for Marin — the world premiere of a choral work composed especially for the Winifred Baker Chorale, will be one of the highlights of the benefit concert sponsored by the Mills College Alumnae of Marin.

Mrs. Robert Schultz of Mill Valley, chairman of the concert committee, has announced that the alumnae group will present the well-known Winifred Baker Chorale in a performance to be held at Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus, San Rafael, on Saturday, Feb. 18, at 8 p.m.

The program will encompass a wide variety of exciting and unusual choral music, including sixteenth and seventeenth century psalm settings, a group of Elizabethan madrigals, the Te Deum by Zoltan Kodaly, and the premiere performance of "Therefore With Angels."

This work was commissioned by the Winifred Baker Chorale from Robert Kelliger, a graduate student of Darius Milhaud at Mills College in Oakland, and is a setting of the poem by Margaret Albanese, Marin poet and Mills alumna, based on the Preface and Sanctus from the Book of Common Prayer.

Soloist with the chorale include Frances McMullen, Christine Dolan and Carroll Solo, sopranos; Betty Gordon, contralto; John Gibb, William Walsh, Robert Dunham and John Corley, tenors; Cary Barford and Robert Reeves, baritone. Accompanists for the group are Ludwig Altman, organist, and Margery Bagshaw, pianist.

Following the concert, the Mills Alumnae have planned a gala champagne reception for members and special guests at the Frances Young Gallery, Marin Art and Garden Center, in Ross. Sharing honors at this affair will be Dr. C. Easton Rothwell, president of Mills College, and Mrs. Rothwell, Eugene Kelliger, the composer.

Gallinas P-TA Meet Tomorrow

"Youth on the Launching Pad" will title the program when Walter H. Busher, County Probation Officer, and J. Paul Dowdall, Supervising Probation Officer of the Juvenile Division, appear as speakers at the Gallinas P-TA meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Kindergarten room of the school.

Concentrating on the first through sixth grade period of the child's preparation for "Launching," the speakers will discuss the influence of the present day shift, from parent to peer, on the behavior of the child; who raises the child; and how long parents are necessary.

A question and answer period will follow the program. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Philip G. Fairlie and Mrs. A. J. Goby.

Darius Milhaud, world-renowned composer and conductor, currently teaching at the college, and Madame Milhaud, and Winifred Baker.

Alumnae members completing plans for the evening include Mrs. Robert Gaw, president of the Marin group; Mrs. Arthur Piver of Mill Valley, in charge of posters, programs and ushers; Mrs. Barnett Sumski Jr., Cortie Madera, invitations; Mrs. John Duckett, Cortie Madera, ticket sales, assisted by Mrs. Charles A. Meacham, Mill Valley; Mrs. Frank A. Walters, San Anselmo, and Mrs. William F. Dresia, San Rafael. Mrs. Robert Guastavino of San Anselmo is making arrangements for the reception.

Committee members are Mesdames Fred R. Andrews, F. W. Peters Jr., Warren Staiger, Michael Schwartzkopf, Mill Valley, and W. H. Bahlke Jr., Alfred Oppenheim, Robert F. Marquis, and Mackey Thompson, all of San Rafael; Edward Bingham, Kentfield; Mrs. William B. Barnes of San Rafael is handling publicity for the event.

The concert is open to the public, and tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. John Duckett or at the door the evening of the performance. Proceeds from the affair are directed to the Alumnae Fund which aids Mills College in supporting increased student scholarships.

Annapolis Wedding Plans Are Made

Mrs. and Mr. Charles E. Kelcy of Swarthmore, Pa. have announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Kelcy, to Midshipman Bruce William Churchill, USN, son of Dr. and Mrs. Asa G. Churchill of San Rafael.

The wedding will take place June 10, in Annapolis, where Midshipman Churchill is a first classman at the United States Naval Academy.

Bridge Sessions

Tuesday night bridge is continuing at the Southern Marin Recreation Center. The sessions, which are strictly for fun, start at 8 p.m. and are hosted by Dr. Albertine Nash. Anyone who would like to come but who does not have a partner should call Dr. Nash before 7:30 p.m. Coffee is served. Membership in the center is not a requirement for attendance.

Noted Psychologist To Speak At St. Raphael's Meeting

St. Raphael's Mother's Guild will have a special meeting Wednesday Feb. 8 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium in order that all parents, both mothers and fathers, may have an opportunity to hear Richard P. Vaughan, S.J., P.H.D., the brilliant child psychologist speak.

Father Vaughan is the chairman of the Psychology Department at the University of San Francisco, director of the Psychological Center at U.S.F., Clinical Psychologist of McAuley Clinic at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco.

Father Vaughan's main topic will be the Catholic parent's role in sex education for children but he will also cover many aspects of child behavior. He is well known for his dynamic and forceful presentation of his topic but also injects humor and wit in his lectures.

In order to promote February as Catholic Press Month, Mrs. John Enos will have a book display of the many Catholic books for adults as well as children. These books and many others are available at St. Raphael's Mission Gift Shop.

The second grade mothers will be hostesses for the evening with Mrs. Bruce Bales, John Diego as chairman.

Mrs. David Vattuone, president, urges all parents to attend this special evening meeting to have the opportunity to hear such a well known psychologist and priest on a topic which is most important and valuable to all parents.

Husbands Night Event For Sweet Adelines

Marin Chapter of Sweet Adelines Inc. will hold their annual Husbands Night tonight in the multi-purpose room of Greenbrae School at 8 p.m.

The husbands will be served refreshments, and entertained with a special program by the chorus. Co-chairmen for the evening are Mrs. Frank Sutcliffe, Mrs. John Harding, Mrs. Kurtis Webb and Mrs. Walter Price.

Following this event, the local Sweet Adelines will be hostesses at Luncheon Is Served, one of the few ways the chorus has of raising funds.

Lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 9, at the Fellowship Hall of Mill Valley Methodist Church. Samples of food products served will be given as awarded, and recipe booklets containing menu suggestions will be given each guest.

Entertainment will be provided by the Sea Sharps quartet from the Marin Chapter.

Luncheon chairmen are Mrs. Paul Brown and Mrs. Kurtis Webb, assisted by Mesdames Jennings Lyon, Paul Blair and Dorsey Cross.

Tickets are available from any Sweet Adeline for a donation or by calling Mrs. Kurtis Webb. Arrangements have been

School Standards Guide Formulated

Parents of seventh and eighth graders in the Reed District have just completed a study to formulate a guide to cover activities and social standards both in school and after school hours.

Meeting with the parents were members of the student council of the Reed School and Robert Gaw, principal. Some of the subjects covered were: Should lipstick and makeup be worn by seventh and eighth grade girls; proper dress for school and parties; after school activities; movies; hours for parties and dances and the curfew hour; dating in the eighth grade and hours spent on homework and television programs.

All parents are invited to attend the final meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 15 in the Reed School auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Albertine Nash will speak on the responsibility of the parents. The results of the study and suggestions will be put forth for discussion.

New Group Received At St. Paul's

Rev. John D. Riley received and introduced "The Advocates" recently to the Parish at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

The young adults' group consists of singles and couples between the ages of 18 and 40 plus years. Their aim is to provide Christian relationship through programming and social activities. Meetings are held the third week of each month.

The young people have slated a "Pancake Supper" as their first project of the year. The event will take place on Feb. 14, which is Shrove Tuesday, at St. Paul's Episcopal Parish hall from 6 to 7:30 p.m. The dinner is for all members and friends of the Episcopal Church.

Officers invested by Rev. Riley were presidents, Mr. and Mrs. George Crofts Jr.; vice presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Donnelly; secretary, Miss Charlotte Stephen; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harold Valceschini and Mrs. William Thomas; treasurer, Lawrence Dreyfuss; chaplains, Harold Valceschini and Norman Bourke; publicity and historian, Mrs. Norman Bourke, and art director, Miss Grace Crofts.

Mt. Carmel Club To Meet Wednesday

Mill Valley's Mount Carmel Women's Club will meet Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. in the lower hall of the Mount Carmel School.

Since February is Catholic Press Month, the program will be presented by the Mount Carmel Library Guild. Members will give short reviews of several new books and will display books especially suitable for reading during the coming season of Lent.

All women of the parish are invited to attend.

Women Voters Unit Meetings Are Announced

Members and guests of the League of Women Voters of Mill Valley will complete discussions on the sources of California tax money at unit meetings starting at 10 a.m. tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday this week.

Mrs. E. A. Steinau Jr., assisted by Mesdames James Good and Morton Rubenstein, will be discussion leader at these places: home of Mrs. Stanley Andersen, 12 Somers Lane, Mill Valley, Tuesday; Home of Mrs. S. I. Hayakawa, 225 Elbridge, Mill Valley, Wednesday, and home of Mrs. Edgar Chiswell, 36 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, Thursday.

All women who are citizens of voting age and who believe in representative government are eligible for league membership and are welcome at league meetings.

Non-citizens are also welcome, may become associate members and join in discussions, but until they become citizens do not enjoy voting membership on league decisions.

Fairfax School Needs Votes In 4th Try At Tax Boost

Voters of Fairfax School District go to the polls tomorrow to consider an increase in their school tax rate for the fourth time in the last 17 months. A 75 cent tax raise defeated in October 1959 and March 1960.

Last November, an increase in the school tax rate from $1.25 to $2.05 per $100 assessed valuation, lost by just 17 votes, out of nearly 3,000 cast. The trustees decided to try one more time.

Tomorrow, the voters are being asked to speak again on this same proposal.

Not since 1954 has Fairfax had a tax rate increase. At that time the rate went up from 90 cents to $1.25. Since that raise, increasing enrollment, a slower increase in assessed valuation, and soaring ing costs have bedeviled the district.

First speech therapy and remedial reading were dropped from the curriculum to balance the budget. Vocal music went next. At the start of this year, instrumental music was discontinued and the school bus stopped operating.

At least the last three would be reinstated at the start of next school year if the tax rate is successful.

Fairfax school apparently needs better financial support in order to continue and improve its standard of education for the children. They are the ones who really are seeking the voters' help.

We hope the voters give careful consideration to their problem and then do their best tomorrow to get proper education for the district by voting Yes.

Hail For A Year Well Done

Marin's Scouters are proud of their record during their Golden Jubilee Year just ended, as they prepare to celebrate Boy Scout Week, starting tomorrow.

At the end of last year, Scouting's 50th, there were 5,142 boys registered as Cubs, Scouts and Explorers in the Marin Council. This is an increase of 242 from the end of 1959. The total of 1,492 men and 244 women registered as volunteer leaders, also was an increase of about 50 more than the year before.

With this registration and leadership, the Scouts had an active year. Some 2,346 of them participated in camping activities at Tamarancho in the Fairfax hills or at High Sierra Camp in Nevada County. Eighty nine Scouts, Explorers and leaders attended the fifth national jamboree held this summer in Colorado Springs, Colo.

In addition, 2,142 Cub Scouts held one-day jubilee outings with parents participating.

Major activities of the boys included the get-out-the-vote campaign in November, when 35,000 homes were personally visited by Scouts leaving Liberty Bell voting reminders. A large Scout-O-Rama was conducted at Hamilton Air Force Base, and the boys, on the last day of the year, planted a grove of pine trees to beautify a portion of the county's new civic center.

Scouts and their leaders may well be proud of their year's activities. On the eve of their week, we are proud to hail them.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

PERSISTENCE IS THE PRICE

Merchandisers know from long experience that to sell anything from breakfast food to automobiles they must keep repeating over and over again the features about their products before they convince the prospective buyer.

Consequently advertisers generally follow these three basic rules:

Tell them what you are going to tell them. Then tell them.

Finally, tell them what you told them.

To stir up interest in the things of the spirit, it is even more necessary to repeat over and over eternal truths before people really comprehend them, much less act upon them.

Don't be surprised, then, if you feel at times like John the Baptist who said: "I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness." (John 1:23)

But take heart. Your very persistence will bring down greater blessings on your personal apostolate and help you to bring Christ to countless souls.

"He that shall persevere to the end, he shall be saved." (Matthew 10:22)

Grant, O Holy Spirit, that I may persevere in bringing God to me and men to God.

Every Extra Pound In Middle Age Increases Your Chances To Die

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Here's the real cost of obesity in middle age—every extra pound you put on increases your death chances roughly about 1 per cent.

Studies show that in people between 45 to 50, 10 pounds of excess weight lifts their mortality rate 8 per cent; 30 pounds, 28 per cent; and 50 pounds, 56 per cent.

What is your gab index? The average adult American, it is estimated, speaks about 4,800 words a day. About the same number a teen-ager uses in an hour on the telephone.

More than seven million operations a year are performed in America. The most popular: tonsillectomies and appendectomies.

Our quotable notables: "When you're down and out something always turns up—and it's usually the noses of your friends."—Orson Welles.

Here's some consolation in a long hard winter: cold weather may make you shiver, but it also makes your mind keener. Science has found people can do physical labor best in a temperature of 65 degrees, but are at their mental best at 40 degrees. Above 70 degrees your thinking ability falls sharply.

Man's place-in-the-home item: A survey of 600 families across the nation showed 80 per cent of the wives spent at least one evening a month out with the girls, but only 76 per cent of the husbands had a night out with the boys.

Wisecrack of the week: Actor Walter Slezak defines an "old-fashioned housewife" as "one who uses a can opener instead of a frozen-food saw."

Times to beware: A Connecticut highway accident study found that the most dangerous hour of the day for motorists was between 4 and 5 p.m.—and the most dangerous day was Saturday. The most dangerous month: December.

ANOTHER SOVIET FIRST? We think few things are more American than apple pie, but the Soviets claim this delicacy is only a pale imitation of their apple desert, "yablochnya pirok," developed by peasant steppes-dwellers several years before New England was settled.

Only one of 20 Americans ever consult a psychiatrist.

AND DOES THIS surprise you? The largest occupational group receiving psychiatric help is made up not of tired, harried businessmen but frustrated housewives.

It was Dr. Beran Wolfe who observed: "No one has learned the meaning of living until he has surrendered his ego to the service of his fellow men."

Appreciation To Larkspur Crew

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

It was very refreshing to find an item on the front page of my copy of the Independent-Journal last evening telling of the work being done on the Larkspur City Hall—refreshing because it told of a group of employees—city employees—who voluntarily were doing something "for" their employer on their "own" time.

They are to be highly commended for this expression of helpfulness.

In too many cases, people are trying to "get" instead of "give."

As a resident of Larkspur, I would like to take this opportunity to thank them.

No Animosity Against Reds

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

It is a relief, indeed, to read that C.B.S. has seen fit to put off the air that capitalistic propaganda TV program about Communist spies in the U.S.A., "The Spy Next Door." Now that Communist Russia and China see that we nourish no animosity against them, they can call off the cold war and their so-called imperialistic goals.

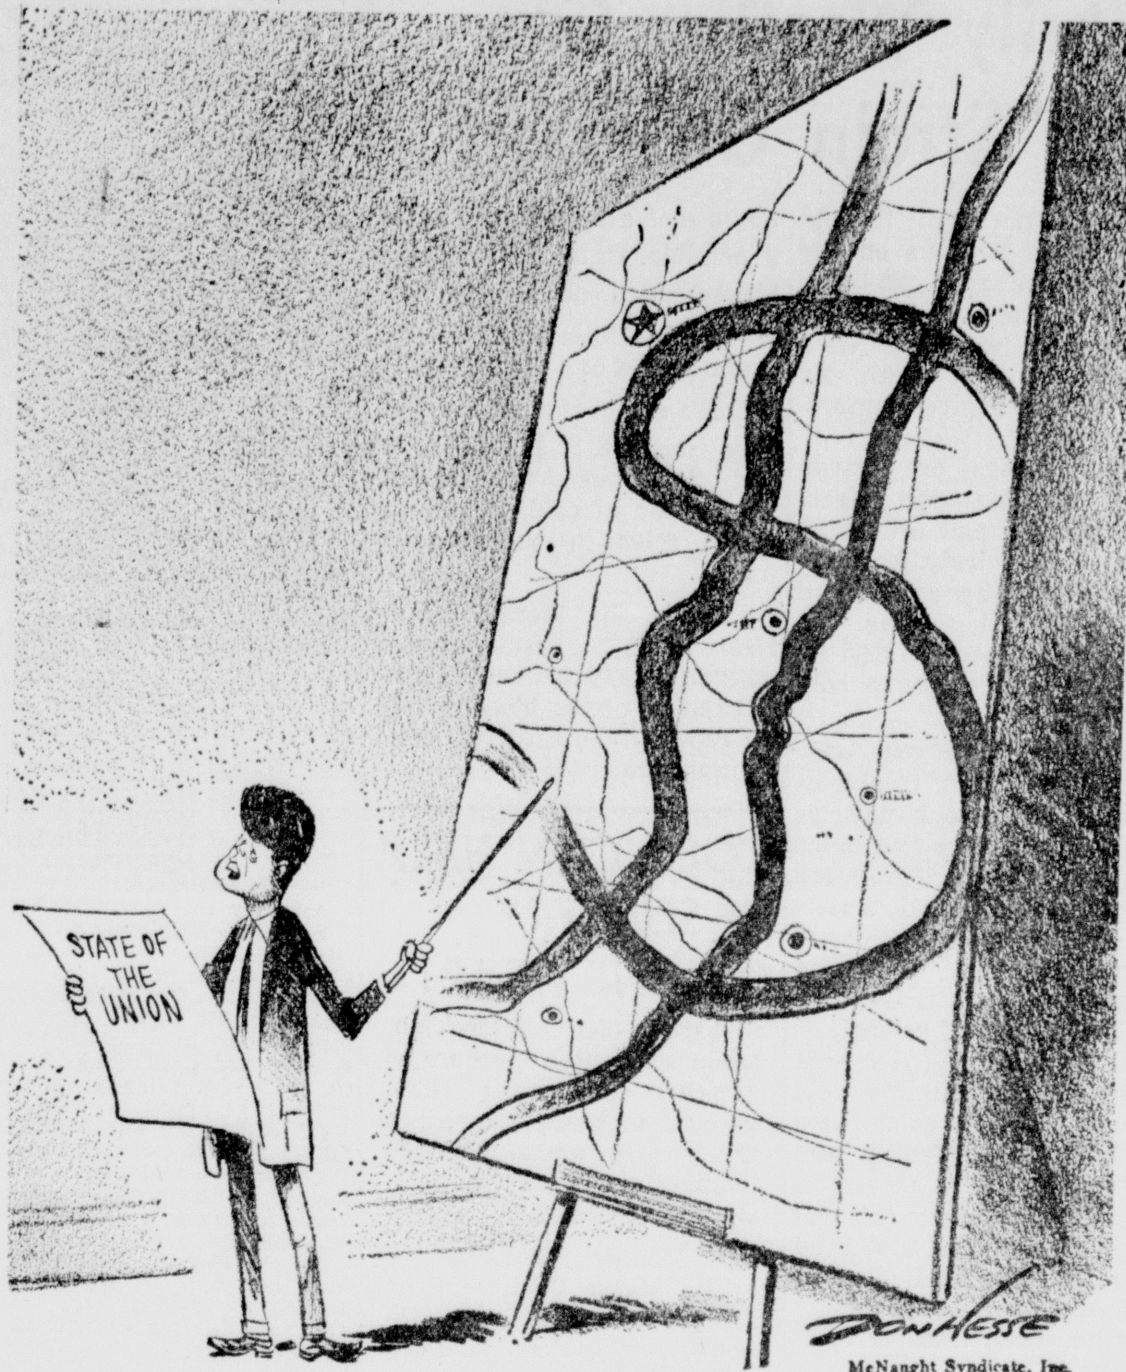

After all, weren't we the ones who forced them into the unfriendly position they have taken today, by our unreasonable, tough policy during the past eight years? Now, however, we have a new theory: We shall be friendly to all Communists, and Mr. Khrushchev and Company will then be able to return the friendship they have been yearning to give us all the time. Why, just allowing the Armstrong Theater program to appear on the air might destroy the whole scheme and might oblige Mr. Khrushchev to keep all his spies in this country, instead of calling them back, as some people lead us to believe he has been contemplating to do since this New Era began a week ago.

However, it is very puzzling to also read that the taped program will be kept for later use . . . What other plans does CBS have for National Hate Week. I certainly hope this letter could then be destroyed in the memory hole of the Telescreen CBS must have in their studios with these words flashing on it all the time: IGNORANCE IS STRENGTH . . .

Yes, CBS and all the others who are using gag methods on the press and television might succeed in fooling us, but could they fool the Communists? What is, really, the ultimate goal? To fool "them"? . . . or "us"?

A Problem At Marin General

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

I think there is a problem at Marin General Hospital. I do not understand the reason for certain rules.

The problem I speak of concerns the rules in the maternity ward. There is one that seems entirely unreasonable. That is the one concerning visitors . . .

The rules state that two visitors are allowed to each patient. They must be in the family. They are requested to remain less than 10 minutes, although visiting hours are one hour.

I wonder if the people that make these rules realize how hard it is for some people to arrange things at home so they can visit a patient, or how far some travel? For 10 minutes?

Not only that, but the hospital demands the patient tell them, in the morning, who is coming. How in the world does the patient know? It costs her 15 cents to make a phone call. Must she call every person to be sure exactly who is able to come, without fail? Or should she just let them decide and then worry if she said the right name of who was coming? . . .

I can understand keeping visitors down, but I can see no reason for not allowing a visitor to leave and give another visitor his card in the time limit set by the hospital.

If the patient doesn't want visitors, she'll tell her doctor. I did. Not because I didn't enjoy my visitors but because I got tired of having to arrange things, and of having people come only to be sent away . . .

For instance, last week a friend of mine called a girl and asked her to visit her. She asked her to bring certain things. She was waiting for her. The girl got a babysitter and hurried down to see her sister.

In the meantime, two other visitors came. The patient had to tell one of them to leave right away as she was expecting her sister. He left immediately, bringing his card out and giving it to the "pink lady." He explained the mistake and left.

Well, when the girl arrived the "pink lady" told her that she could not go in, that her sister had said "no." And she would not back down. Hurt and angry, the girl left. Then the "pink lady" went down to tell the patient . . . The visitor was upset, the patient was upset, the visit ruined, but the "rules" were kept . . . I've heard so often, "If only there were another place to go!" Is this right? . . .

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Mox Lindquist in "My Man-asota Pals" cites the case of a tough old lumberjack cutting a few capers on the fourteenth floor of a Minneapolis hotel. He lost his balance leaning out of a window, and fell all the way to the ground. Miraculously enough, he was not killed. In fact, he arose gingerly and rubbed his head.

A passerby gasped, "What happened?"

The lumberjack said, "Ay don't know. Ay just got here myself!"

Lindquist ran smack into a 350-pound lady in northern Minnesota who, quite literally, bowled him off his feet. "Were you always so fat?" inquired the startled Mox. "Oh, ya," she assured him. "Ay ban purty fat as girl in Sweden. My grandmothers were fat on both sides."

Short story submitted by Col. Francis Duffy: CARELESS - CARELESS - CARELESS.

He pictures the nation's problems — an economy in trouble, a NATO alliance in disarray, an "unfavorable tide" in Southeast Asia, news which will "be worse before it is better"—as "towering and unprecedented." But there is little that is towering or unprecedented in what he is calling on Congress and the people to do.

I BELIEVE that this disparity—if I am right in calling it a disparity—should be recognized. One of the following is implicit:

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

'Equalization' Makes Junior Grade Commuters Of Mill Valley Kids

Fathers and sons. Both commute in Mill Valley. Shortly after the big commuters climb aboard buses and head for San Francisco, a band of little commuters are readying for their school commute.

Through marvelous timing and manipulation, five big yellow buses take the short commuters cross town, up mountain, down mountain and from the sea to Strawberry Point.

Do they complain? No, they are our sons. We have arranged this wonderful import-export system so that our children do not have to be in classes up to 40 or 50 in size.

What is it called? It is the equalization plan. It's something like dealing in sugar beets being sent to the mill—only, remember, they are our children. Some rides last one hour, some involve a transfer.

HOW DO WE equalize our children? Viz: Last year Nancy De LaSaux, 6, of Enchanted Knolls, attended Alto School. This year, because Alto classes were too big in first grade, she goes to Strawberry Point, where the class is smaller.

Why? Well, take Old Mill. This fall there will be 50 sixth graders. That's too many for one class. So, either there is an added double session for primary students or youngsters are put on buses and shuttled to another area. Kids love buses.

A school administrator says we have to balance the classes because children do not always appear where the classrooms are. The best education comes from a good teacher and a class of moderate size—30. Very sensible.

WHAT DOES Nancy say? When someone asks her 10-year-old sister where she attends school, she points to Alto. When someone asks Nancy she says "Oh, you can't see where my school is. It's too far away."

Joseph K. Womack, Strawberry principal: "You don't have a continuous record for a particular child with equalization. A first grade teacher can usually find out how to help a child more by speaking to the kindergarten teacher who had the child the past year. This is more difficult if the child has been moved; it must be done by telephone. Multiply it by 16."

"Children," said Womack, "who come to school on a bus are regulated by this bus. It limits extra help by a teacher after school."

"Last year at Strawberry we had children coming from Muir Beach. I don't think they could have lived any farther apart and still attend Mill Valley School District unless they lived in the ocean."

Mrs. Roy Carlson: "I don't know where my children will be sent this fall." One will enter kindergarten, the other fifth grade. The school (Marin Terrace) in her neighborhood has grades one to four. So it's the bus for the baby, the bus for the eldest.

Mrs. Charles Woodward (with seven youngsters): "The idea of a neighborhood school is personal contact . . . I favor more classrooms but on level areas."

MRS. JACK SHAPIRO (with two youngsters): "Both my youngsters have been equalized and I don't think it hurt either one." In five years, living at the same location, her son has been in four schools. "I don't think we should have the vote (on school bonds). They don't ask us if we should have a new freeway."

Mrs. Taber L. Kopan (three children): "Equalization takes away school spirit." From Enchanted Knolls her children are exported for the day to Strawberry. "The Strawberry kids feel this. This is their neighborhood. We're imports."

Mrs. Shapiro: "When we go to kaffee klatches, we ask each other, 'Well, where are the children now?' And 'How many P.TAs do you belong to?'"

Children are so adjustable. They have adjusted to equalization and might even be able to adjust to a few more classrooms.

Kennedy Is A Man Of Greater Moderation In Action Than Words

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's first State of the Union message — an appeal to the country as well as to Congress — expresses a notable combination of candor and caution, daring and restraint.

No President in our times has issued a sterner call to duty and at the same time a more modest call to action.

One veteran Washington correspondent described it as a confrontation of the Kennedy "philosophy of urgency" and the Eisenhower "philosophy of moderation."

WITHIN THE TERMS of the President's own address it is hard to see that his measured proposals are equal to his description of the gravity of our dangers and needs.

I am not saying that Kennedy is wrong or unwise in asking so little of Congress. His prudence may be well based on the political circumstances of his election. But the modesty of the measures he says will be shortly forthcoming does not quite correspond to the tone of "blood, sweat, and tears" which he uses to describe the crises now surrounding us from the Congo to Cuba.

He pictures the nation's problems — an economy in trouble, a NATO alliance in disarray, an "unfavorable tide" in Southeast Asia, news which will "be worse before it is better"—as "towering and unprecedented." But there is little that is towering or unprecedented in what he is calling on Congress and the people to do.

I BELIEVE that this disparity—if I am right in calling it a disparity—should be recognized. One of the following is implicit:

That Kennedy has overstated the urgency of problems. That he has not understated the problems, but has underestimated what needs to be done.

That he fully believes that much more needs to be asked of the country and of the Congress, but feels he does not yet possess the political prestige and the national influence to ask for more at this time.

I would think that the latter judgment reflects the President's position.

The President must be either planning to trim considerably his expected spending programs during the coming year, or is making a very risky commitment by saying that he does not intend by any action he himself takes to unbalance the budget which President Eisenhower presented for 1961-62.

OBVIOUSLY KENNEDY does not need to fulfill all his pledges the first three months or even the first three years. Our goals need to be further than our reach.

But I found it hard to escape the feeling from the State of the Union address that President Kennedy is a man of far greater moderation in action than he is in words.

There were many reassuring commitments in the address. There was the pledge to defend the dollar against all attack, to take more vigorous action if the recession worsens, to persevere in all efforts to resist Communist suffocation of freedom and independence.

The President rightly warned "that we cannot escape our dangers — neither must we let them drive us to panic or to narrow isolation."

It's The Responsibility Of Parents To Prepare Children For Marriage

Few things are as final as the marriage of a son or daughter. It means your job is done. From now on you can sit back and relax.

You'll be sorry when your youngsters marry, but you'll also be glad.

Preparing them for marriage is your last job as a parent.

Do you have an engaged son? Try to teach him patience. You'll have to be subtle. If you preach he'll rebel. But make sure he knows that many marriages are ruined by the groom's aggressiveness. He should be tolerant, loving, understanding.

Do you have an engaged daughter? Her biggest present problem may be sex. An increasing number of engaged couples refuse to wait. They start life together with feelings of anxiety and guilt. Yet chastity needs understanding.

Before marriage, chastity is the ideal; afterward it is not. The change is abrupt. Be careful not to give your girl the idea that men are beasts. Let her know it takes frequently two or three years for most couples to make satisfactory adjustments in the intimate side of their marriages.

During the marriage ceremony try to be jolly. It is a happy occasion. Give the young people a good send-off. Later try to love them both, equally.

If they turn to you for advice, give it carefully. Don't take sides in arguments. They are adults now. Your interference will only cause trouble.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "I am arranging a church wedding for my daughter. I am shocked to find that my church has stiff rental fees for marriages. A large profit is made. Is my church unique?"

(A) No. In some denominations it is common to charge a stiff marriage rental fee. Profits are made. I suspect that the fees are not legal. They may jeopardize the churches' tax exemptions. However, the practice is found all over the country.

Drunken Drivers Draw Sentences

Three men were sentenced for drunken driving by Marin County Municipal Court judges Thursday.

Norman Byron Brewster, 45, of San Francisco, was found guilty on Jan. 12. Judge Joseph G. Wilson, yesterday, sentenced him to six months probation, fined him $184, and restricted his driving for the next 90 days. Brewster was arrested Jan. 1 on Highway 101 in Greenbrae.

Judge Harold J. Haley sentenced Meldon A. Embury, 46, of Woodacre to six months probation, fined him $132 and restricted his driving for 90 days. Embury pleaded guilty. He was arrested Dec. 28 on Redwood Road in San Anselmo.

Harold Lloyd Michael, 24, of 1045 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, pleaded guilty before Judge Haley and was sentenced to one year probation, fined $132 and his driving restricted for five months. He was arrested Dec. 15 on Fourth Street in San Rafael.

Health Group's Dinner Thursday

The Marin Assn. for Mental Health will hold its annual dinner meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday at Riskey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio.

A panel of three speakers is scheduled. They are Dr. Irving Rosenblatt, public affairs chairman for the California Assn. for Mental Health; Dr. Richard Hinze, assistant county superintendent of schools; and Dr. J. M. Stubblebine, psychiatrist at Ross General Hospital.

Mrs. William O'Shaughnessy is in charge of reservations for the dinner.

Home Owner Group Will Hear Blair

County Supervisor J. Walter Blair's opinions on inequality of tax appraisals in Marin are to be sought at a meeting of the Kay Park Home Owners Assn. at 8 p.m. Friday at the home of Harry Springer, 333 Jean Street, Tamalpais Valley.

Blair, according to club member Mrs. H. C. Farnum, will have questionnaires on the questions prior to the meeting and the meeting may be thrown open to questions from the floor following Blair's discussion.

SOME DO'S AND DON'T'S

Chilly Weather Can Put Strain On Heart

Undue exposure to cold places severe burdens on the circulatory system. It can bring the loss of a finger or toe, or as the Marin County Heart Assn. reminds you, even death can result from prolonged, unprotected chilling.

Human beings are warm-blooded animals, the Heart Assn. explains, and ordinarily conserve their body heat by cutting down the amount of surface exposed to the air. That's why you tend to curl up under the blankets on a cold night.

In addition, when your body is chilled you begin to shiver. Shivering gives your muscles involuntary exercise and helps warm them. Then, if you are still cold, small blood vessels close down all over your body surface. The blood flow rate in these vessels is reduced to as little as a fifth of normal.

Your body is using your skin as a blanket to conserve heat internally. At the same time your heart beats faster, and your blood pressure goes up—all to try to keep your internal sources of warmth mobilized against the external danger. But if exposure is too greatly prolonged, these measures finally fail.

Obviously, the best medicine against chilling and exposure is prevention.

The Marin County Heart Assn. advises you to observe the following do's and don'ts in cold weather.

DO dress warmly when you go out but not so warmly as to perspire.

DO keep dry (water, dampness, conduct cold to the body's surface).

DO dress children in moderately warm but not very heavy clothing, when they go outdoors to play, with hands and feet well covered, and tell them to come in for more clothing if they get cold. Better still, go out now and then and make sure they aren't getting chilled.

DO cover up well in the wind—earmuffs and scarves keep ears, cheeks, etc., from freezing. (For warmth, wool or synthetics that are "springy" are best—they trap air and therefore are good insulators.)

DO exercise if, for example, you have to wait on a street corner for a bus. Swing your arms, wiggle your fingers, stamp your feet. This helps warm blood circulate.

DO eat a good diet—nature steps up your appetite in cold weather. Don't use this as an excuse to eat too much fattening food—overweight places a burden on the heart.

If you are caught out in zero weather and become badly chilled, don't heed the old wives' tale that says snow or ice should be rubbed on frostbitten fingers or toes. Don't rub them at all. When you get inside (as soon as you can), do get into a warm (not a hot) tub of water if possible. Or lie under warm blankets, and take a warm non-alcoholic drink. Don't use hot water bottles or a heat lamp.

Call a doctor if you think you have frostbite. It announces itself by numbness, tingling and a sensation of cold, as well as ashen color in the affected part.

Finally, the Marin County Heart Assn. counsels anyone with an illness that causes poor circulation of the blood should be especially careful to avoid exposure to cold.

COLD CAN HELP IN SURGERY ON THE HEART

It seems contradictory that, when accidental exposure to extreme cold can be dangerous, surgeons sometimes greatly lower a patient's body temperature in order to operate on the heart.

Do you know why?

The Marin County Heart Assn. explains that "hypothermia"—the doctor's term for low temperature—induces a state in the patient like animal hibernation. It slows down all vital processes and greatly reduces the body's need for oxygen and blood.

This means that the flow of blood through the heart can safely be stopped long enough for the surgeon to do his work. And he can do it under direct vision and in a "dry field," observing and correcting defects far more easily than he could if the heart were flooded with blood and pumping at its usual rate.

Sausalito Recreation Plan Will Be Sifted

The Sausalito Citizens Council will examine the pros and cons of a recreational area proposed by the Sausalito Recreation Commission for the Napalitho Street area and report back to the board Feb. 15 on whether a public meeting should be held to discuss the subject.

Carl W. Gabrielson of 6 Pulkley Avenue was welcomed as a new director last night, according to corresponding secretary Carl W. Spring. Gabrielson fills the vacancy created by resignation of Sam Weinstein.

WHAT DOES MULTIPLE LISTING MEAN?

How Did This System

Sell More Than $32,499,913

Worth of Real Estate Last Year?

FRANKLY, the term "Multiple Listing" means that the broker who handles your property exchanges your listing with other REALTOR members to expedite the sale of your property. There's nothing new or remarkable about this. Property records show that 65% of the homes listed with a broker are sold by another cooperating broker who has a buyer. This exchange agreement has been going on between brokers for many years.

Through this exchange agreement, cooperating members of the Marin County Real Estate Board sold more than $32,499,913 of Multiple Listed property in 1960.

It is a perfectly simple arrangement. You list your property with the REALTOR member of your selection. He, in turn, lists it with reliable REALTOR members of the Marin County Real Estate Board. You pay nothing for this service but you have the benefit of many brokers working through your own personal REALTOR representative.

INCOME TAX FACTS

When To Use Table, Make Standard Claim

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

If your itemized deductions are less than 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income you should claim the standard deduction or use the tax table.

If your income is between $5,000 and $10,000, take 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income. However, if it is over $10,000, your standard deduction is limited to $1,000. If you are a married person filing a separate return, your standard deduction is limited to $500.

If you income is under $5,000 you must use the tax table to gain the benefits of the standard deduction. You cannot deduct 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income. The tax table automatically allows you 10 per cent in lieu of itemized deductions.

It will ordinarily be better to itemize your deductions if you are a homeowner paying interest and taxes, or if you make large contributions to recognized charities, or if you have unusually large medical expenses during the year.

If you or your wife file separate returns and one elects to itemize deductions, the other must also itemize. One spouse cannot file a long form 1040 or 1040-W and take all the deductions and the other spouse file a form 1040-A or take the standard deduction or use the tax table.

You are expected to pay your income tax on the basis of the lowest figure possible; therefore, you should choose the form that results in the lowest tax for you.

Radio Listeners Win In Contest

Mrs. Margaret M. Ryan of Larkspur and Mrs. D'Ambrogio of 1871 Virginia Avenue, Novato, have been announced as winners in a radio station "Salute to a City" contest.

Mrs. Ryan's 50-word tribute to Larkspur as a place where "You'll find no tempo frantic, no shopping hours gigantic" will be read on KGO at intervals throughout next Wednesday and she received a $5 cash prize.

Mrs. D'Ambrogio did a similar tribute to Novato for which she also gets $5 and readings of her statement throughout next Thursday. She called Novato "a new city with many modern homes and buildings, (which) still retains its picturesque country atmosphere."

Sperm oil from whales still is valuable because it can withstand sharp changes in temperature.

Medical Mirror

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Bladder Trouble

- Days of Pregnancy
- Salt & Cheese
- Frequency
- Pneumonia

Q. What causes cystitis?

A. Cystitis means inflammation of the bladder. There are many causes, the most frequent being infection. Bacteria (germs) get a foothold when the flow of urine is obstructed or when the urine contains sugar (as in diabetes). In women, cystitis may be associated with vaginal infection.

Q. What is the duration, in days, of normal pregnancy?

A. Calculated from the last menstrual period, it has been variously given as 290 to 304 days. However, in 1946, medical authorities testified before the Supreme Court of New York that a pregnancy extending 355 days was "not impossible."

Q. Which of the ordinary cheeses contain the least salt?

I am on a low-salt diet.
A. So far as the sodium content is concerned (sodium is the important element), cream cheese

Q. Does getting up at night or frequent urination mean kidney trouble?

A. Not necessarily. Frequent urination may be due to certain diseases or to irritation of some portion of the urinary apparatus below the kidneys. See your doctor.

Q. What is pneumonia?

A. It is chronic inflammation of the lungs caused by inhalation of mineral dusts such as silica and asbestos. Fibrous tissue forms in the lungs and this shows up in x-ray pictures as shadows.

It's wise to have a family physician. Then, if an emergency arises, you will not be a stranger to him. And remember, our friendly and competent staff will be glad to serve your prescription needs.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)
By HARRY CRAFT

Marin PT&T District Captures Award, Hopes For Repeat Win

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in the course of business expansion talks more about marketing than sales and calls it "customer orienting"—getting the customer acquainted with the many services and equipment available.

It flows through the operations of all departments in the form of team effort in each district. The company appraises the results each quarter and stimulates inter-organizational competition by awarding a plaque to the district with the highest rating.

The Marin County district came in for its due last Thursday when the "General Managers Marketing Award" for the Bay Area—a plaque for the fourth quarter of 1960—was presented to managers of this area during a lunch at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

Since the Bay Area competition started 18 months ago no district has taken the trophy more than once. Marin County hopes to break the record and duplicate its feat again this quarter.

If you get a lot of busy signals between now and April 1, you'll know it really is.

FAIRFAX BUSINESS: Alioto's of Fairfax, a new fish and poultry store at 9 Bolinas Road, is an enterprise of Joe De Silva of San Rafael. He's lived in Marin County about 17 years but thought the name Alioto was better known and got permission to use it. The store has a seafood cocktail counter for quick snacks.

Aboard Cargo Ship

Harry S. Neal, Navy gunner's mate third class, son of Mrs. Katie A. Neal of 433 C Street, San Rafael, is serving aboard the attack cargo ship USS Seminole operating with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Rafael has been named a regional director for the Retail Furniture Assn. of California for 1961. Roy Bishop of Roofing Service and Supply Co., San Rafael is being carried over as a director this year for the Associated Roofing Contractors of the Bay Area Counties, Inc. Paul Ciampi of Paul Ciampi Distributing Co., San Rafael, has been re-elected a director of the California Beer Wholesaler Assn.—he represents Marin and Sonoma Counties in the association.

MOTORCRAFT: Mercedes-Benz has risen from 15th place in 1959 sales to a current ranking of fourth place among all imported makes in the United States. Increase has resulted largely since the formation of Mercedes-Benz Sales, Inc., a subsidiary of Studebaker-Packard Corp. Used car stocks of franchised dealers relative to sales were the highest this January they have ever been at the beginning of the year. General slowness in auto sales and outlook for 1961 while disturbing to many does not shake the optimism of the industry which points out that J. P. Morgan concluded the "saturation point" had been reached in 1912.

STATE FARM INSURANCE announces the appointment of Gerald E. Kaysen, 690 North San Pedro Road, San Rafael, to represent their lines of insurance. He will work at a San Rafael office.

SAMPLES PRODUCT—Dawn Loewen of Hanford, "California Dairy Princess," paid a San Rafael call en route to the state convention of Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America in Santa Rosa over the weekend. While here she sampled some of her favorite product. (Independent-Journal photo)

Car Registration Up

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California automobile registrations have risen from four million in 1950 to some eight million today. The number of licensed drivers has increased from about 5.1 million in 1950 to nearly eight million.

Alto Fire Code Given Reading

The National Fire Prevention Code for 1960 was given first reading by the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District board Friday night.

The district has never had a code up to now. Adoption of the code would set up rules on fire prevention and precautionary measures. The code must be publicized and given a public hearing before adoption, Fire Chief Carl O. Heynan said.

Next regular meeting of the board is March 3.

This is the "wagon" we hitched to a star

"That's us, taking a spin in our 'wagon'—the sleekest sportscar you ever saw. Actually, it's a by-product of something much more important. Something that began when Betty said to me a few years back: 'Jim, doesn't it worry you a little that we're not getting more living done?'"

"We talked about it far into the night. We were drifting. It was time to hitch our wagon to a star, we decided—to pick out a dream and then plan toward it.

"What was it we really wanted? Our own business. College education for the kids. Enough left over to enjoy some of life's extras, like the sportscar that had always been a 'someday' thing with me."

Jim and Betty Hall worked at it. They soon realized everything hinged upon how well they managed money. And for help in this, they turned to Crocker-Anglo Bank.

They started with a savings account. Then, when Jim's chance to have his own business arose, he used a Crocker-Anglo loan to augment his savings. Over the years other C-A business loans helped him move ahead.

When Jim needed a site for a small plant, Crocker-Anglo's real estate loan department helped finance it. And when Betty wanted to assure college education for the children, C-A set up a family trust for the purpose. Later, the Halls called on Crocker-Anglo for help in setting up their first investment program.

Maybe you've seen the Halls giving their "wagon" a workout. They're just people. No different from the rest of us except...

They had a plan. Or call it a dream. And they used their bank for all it's worth.

Call on CROCKER-ANGLO... most helpful bank of all
